POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

POLITICAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1328P.—The 29th January 1917.—The following is published for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extract (paragraphs 1 and 2) from a Resolution by the Government of India in the Home Department, Nos. 2951-64, dated the 18th December 1914, as amended by that department Resolution Nos. 1286-1299, dated the 15th April 1915, and form of Certificate of Identity.

IN supersession of the orders contained in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, Nos. 2831-2842, dated the 8th December 1899, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following instructions with regard to certificates of identity.

2. Every Native of India who contemplates proceeding out of India to foreign countries is strongly urged before leaving to furnish himself with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency town and in the town of Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India, and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. In the case of a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency town and in the town of Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

Appeals for assistance by destitute Indians who desire repatriation, and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education, cannot be dealt with satisfactorily unless the parties are in a position to produce evidence of identity. The possession of a certificate of identity will be specially useful to young men of good family, as it may enable the Secretary of State to obtain for them social and other attentions.

Those who are desirous, however, of travelling in countries where a passport will be necessary are advised to furnish themselves with such a document also before leaving India, in lieu of, or in addition to, a certificate of identity. It should be remembered that no person is entitled to a passport as of right, on the ground that he is a British subject, and the production before authorities outside India of a certificate of identity, unless supplemented by documentary evidence of respectability, is not sufficient to ensure that a passport will be granted.

* * * * * * *

Form of Certificate of Identity.

1. Name of applicant_____
2. Father's name and caste _____
3. Residence_____
4. Age of applicant_____
5. *Nationality of applicant _____
6. Social or pecuniary status of father (or guardian) _____
7. Date of probable departure of applicant from India _____
8. Object of applicant's visit to England (Europe)_____

Signature of District Officer (in a Presidency town the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, or head of school or college.†

* i. e., whether a British subject by birth, or by naturalization (or a subject of a Native State).

† Countersignature of the District or Political Officer should be obtained on certificates signed by heads of schools or colleges.

NOTE.—Holders of certificates of identity intending to apply subsequently in England or elsewhere for a passport to visit a foreign country are warned that no person is entitled to a passport as of right on the sole ground that he is a British subject. The production of a certificate of identity, therefore, will not ordinarily be sufficient to secure the grant of a passport, unless it is supplemented by documentary evidence of respectability, endorsed by a local Government or other authority competent to issue passports in India, certifying that the holder is a fit and proper person to receive a passport.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADHUR OF BURDWAN :—

Legislative Council meetings in Calcutta during the months of June and September.

* 1. Will the Government be pleased to state the number of meetings of the Bengal Legislative Council held in Calcutta each year, since 1906, during the months of June and September?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"During the period in question, meetings were held in Calcutta in June in one year only, that is to say, in 1913. Meetings were held in Calcutta in September in the years 1907, 1908 (twice), 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1916."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADHUR OF BURDWAN :—

Legislative Council meetings at Darjeeling.

* 2. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of meetings of the Bengal Legislative Council held at Darjeeling since the year 1900, mentioning the dates on which such meetings were held?

(b) Will the Government also be pleased to state the amount expended each year, since 1900, for the travelling and halting expenses of the Members who attended the meetings of the said Council at Darjeeling?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) One, on the 16th June, 1909.

" (b) The figures are not available, but there were only two non-official members present at the meeting referred to above, and as it is probable that both these members were resident in Darjeeling at the time, it is also probable that the expenses, if any, on account of their attendance were very small."

By the Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADHUR OF BURDWAN :—

Expenditure in connection with the Dacca exodus.

* 3. Will the Government be pleased to state what expenses have been incurred each year since the territorial changes of 1912 up to date—

(i) on His Excellency the Governor's visits to Dacca; showing separately in detail the travelling and halting expenses of His Excellency and staff as well as those of other officers and offices that proceeded to Dacca on such occasions;

(ii) towards the payment of the travelling and halting allowance to the Members of the Bengal Legislative Council for attendance at meetings held at Dacca?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (i) Travelling expenses incurred by His Excellency the Governor and his staff on account of His Excellency's visits to Dacca approximately amounted to—

	Rs.
1912-13	16,757
1913-14	28,698
1914-15	14,960
1915-16	30,682
1916-17	18,472

Expenses incurred by the Civil and Public Works Department Secretariats and by several Heads of Departments in connection with the move to Dacca amounted to—

	Civil and Public Works Department Secretariats.	Heads of Departments.
	Rs.	Rs.
1912-13	.....*	.....
1913-14	13,412	1,097
1914-15	7,170	2,330
1915-16	9,599	2,093
1916-17	12,310	2,745

* Complete figures are not available.

It may be observed that a considerable portion of the expenditure shown against Heads of Departments would have been incurred by their visits to Dacca in the ordinary course of their duties.

(ii) No meetings of the Bengal Legislative Council were held in Dacca during 1912 and 1913. Rupees 770-4, Rs. 1,002-8-6 and Rs. 1,674-5 were paid in 1914, 1915 and 1916, respectively, on travelling allowances of members for attending meetings held at Dacca."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN :—

Inroads of the river Ganges towards Kalna.

* 4. (a) Are the Government aware of the inroads being made year after year by the river Ganges towards the Gunj Bazar of Kalna?

(b) If so, what steps (if any) are the Government taking to protect this threatened portion of Kalna Gunj?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) This is an ordinary case of diluvion and alluvion in respect of private lands. In the absence of exceptional circumstances, which do not appear to exist in this case, it is not the policy of Government to spend public money in attempts to regulate the diluvial and alluvial action of rivers which flow through or beside private lands."

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

Appointments in the Subordinate Educational Service.

* 5. (a) Is it a fact that the Director of Public Instruction has recently issued a circular to the effect that no M.A. or M.Sc. should be appointed as a teacher in a Government school on more than Rs. 50 a month in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, no B.A. or B.Sc. on more than Rs. 35 a month in class I of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service and no I.A. or I.Sc. on more than Rs. 25 a month in class III of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service?

(b) Are the Government aware of the existence of a feeling that the above initial salaries are insufficient to attract competent men who are desirous of remaining permanently in the Educational Service?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of asking the Director of Public Instruction to modify the abovementioned circular?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) A copy of the Director of Public Instruction's Circular No. $\frac{188}{4A-58-16}$ dated the 9th November, 1916, is laid on the table. While this circular fixes the initial pay upon which gentlemen having certain academical qualifications should ordinarily be appointed as teachers in Government schools, this pay being at the rates mentioned in the question, it allows for their appointment on higher rates of pay with the special sanction of the Director of Public Instruction.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the statement made in paragraph 6 of the circular which gives the grounds upon which these rates were fixed.

(c) The answer is in the negative."

Circular referred to by the Hon'ble MR. KERR in his Answer to Question No. 5 (starred) asked by the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR at the Council Meeting of the 23rd January 1917.

Circular No. $\frac{188}{4A-58-16}$, dated Calcutta, the 9th November 1916.

From—THE HON'BLE MR. W. W. HORNELL, M.A. (OXON.), Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,

To—All Divisional Inspectors of Schools; all Principals of Government Colleges; the Principal, Calcutta Madrasah; the Principal, Bethune College; the Lady Principal, Eden High School for Girls, Dacca; the Secretaries, Madrasah Committees at Dacca and Chittagong, and Inspectresses of Schools.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that on a review of the orders issued by this office from time to time, on the subject of the initial pay on which persons with various qualifications should be appointed, I find that orders are not clear. Accordingly I lay down, in supersession of the previous orders on the subject, that persons of the qualifications mentioned below should be appointed on the initial pay noted against them—

M.A.'s or M.Sc.'s when they are apppointed in high schools or to posts of Laboratory Assistants in colleges	Rupees 50 in Class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service.
B. A.'s or B. Sc.'s	Rupees 35 in Class I of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service.
I. A.'s or I. Sc.'s	Rupees 25 in Class III of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

2. No person should be appointed on a higher initial pay than that indicated above, without the special sanction of this office. Applications for such sanction can be made only in very exceptional cases, for instance, when Muhammadans have to be appointed and they cannot be obtained on the terms indicated above. Special reference should be made to this office, when occasions arise for the relaxation of the above limits.

3. The cases of B.T.'s and L.T.'s are difficult. It would appear fair and reasonable to offer them higher initial salaries than those who have not passed these examinations, and that a teacher in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service who is deputed to the Training College for a course of training, has, on coming out successful, a claim to special and immediate promotion. This is, however, not practicable. If, for example, an outsider B.T. or L.T. is appointed on a higher salary than the officers already in Government service who possess similar qualifications, the latter will have a just grievance.

4. It is not possible to fix the initial pay of B.T.'s and L.T.'s, but I do not wish to discourage training. The case of an officer of this Department (teacher or inspecting officer) who improves his qualifications by passing successfully through a course of training, will be specially considered in the matter of promotion so far as this can be done without prejudice to the claims of other deserving officers. It is also proposed that there should be certain posts, viz., Headmasterships of the improved guru-training schools for which the B.T. will be an indispensable qualification.

5. As regards the appointment of outsiders to teaching or inspecting posts, preference should always be given to B.T.'s and L.T.'s if such candidates are available, and if they can be appointed without prejudice to the legitimate claims of certain communities for a share of Government patronage. I would suggest that you should make this clear in advertising a vacancy. If a B.T. or L.T. is forthcoming, he should ordinarily be appointed on the initial pay to which he is entitled according to his general academical qualification as indicated in paragraph 1. If, however, it is proposed to appoint an experienced B.T. or L.T. in the first instance to Government service, his case must be referred to this office if he is not prepared to accept the ordinary terms.

6. Another matter which I should impress upon you is the fact that the more outsiders are appointed to the Subordinate Educational Service or to the higher grades in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service, the fewer will be the chances of promotion of deserving officers from the Lower Subordinate Educational Service. It is perfectly true that it is difficult to secure suitable graduate teachers on the terms that can be offered under existing conditions, but one cannot have it both ways, and if appointments are made direct in higher grades we diminish proportionately the prospects of promotion of the officers in the lower grades. The generally unsatisfactory conditions of Government schools in the matter of staff have been pointed out to Government over and over again, but the remedy which is a costly one, cannot be considered until the financial position has been readjusted.

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

B.T. and L.T. examinations.

* 6. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state when and why the B.T. and L.T. examinations were started?

(b) Has any special consideration been shown to the persons who have passed these examinations as regards their pay and prospects?

(c) How many persons who have passed the B.T. examination are there in the service of Government?

(d) What is the highest as well as the lowest pay that they are drawing at present?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) B.T. and L.T. examinations were inaugurated in Bengal by the Calcutta University in the years 1908 and 1910, respectively. It is understood that they were started in pursuance of the recommendations of the Indian Universities Commission.

(b) The claims of B.T's. and L.T's. are considered when vacancies are filled up on the staffs of the Training colleges and schools and of Guru-training schools; three Bachelors and one Licentiate in Teaching were given special promotion to class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service last year. Persons having these academical qualifications are not required to pass certain departmental examinations which other persons have to pass as a condition of confirmation in the service of Government.

(c) One hundred and forty officers in the Education Department have passed the B.T. examination. Statistics for other departments of Government are not available.

(d) The highest rate of pay is Rs. 200 and the lowest is Rs. 35—2—45.".

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

Comparative pay in the Subordinate and Provincial Educational Services.

* 7. Is it a fact that the pay for the highest grade of the Subordinate Educational Service is equal to the pay in the lowest grade of the Provincial Educational Service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The answer is in the negative."

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

Head Masters and the Provincial Educational Service.

* 8. (a) Is it a fact that the Head Masters in the highest grade of the Subordinate Educational Service receive a duty allowance of Rs. 50 a month and that this allowance is not given to them on their promotion to the Provincial Educational Service?

(b) How many of these Head Masters were promoted to the Provincial Educational Service last year?

(c) Are the Government considering the advisability of either increasing the pay for the lowest grade of the Provincial Educational Service or of continuing the duty allowance until such officers are promoted to a higher grade in the Provincial Educational Service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Head Masters of Government High Schools who are in the Subordinate Educational Service, whatever their grade, receive a local allowance of

Questions and Answers.

Rs. 50 per mensem. This allowance is not given to them on promotion to the Provincial Educational Service.

(b) Two Head Masters in the Subordinate Educational Service were promoted to the Provincial Educational Service during the last calendar year.

(c) The answer is in the negative.

In view of the fact that Head Masters in the Provincial Educational Service have better prospects than those in the Subordinate Educational Service, it is not necessary to grant them allowances such as have been granted to Head Masters in the Subordinate Service."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Establishment of a City Civil Court for Calcutta.

* 9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to further the object of the resolution which was adopted by the Bengal Legislative Council with regard to the establishment of a City Civil Court for Calcutta?

(b) Have the High Court of Calcutta and any other authorities been asked for opinions about the proposal, since the resolution was passed in the Council?

(c) If so, have their replies been received?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The matter is still under consideration and Government are unable at present to make any statement on the subject."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Augmentation grant to District Boards.

*10. (a) With reference to the statement made in paragraph 13 of the Government Resolution reviewing the reports on the working of the District Boards in Bengal during 1915-16, will the Government be pleased to explain the reasons why the amount of Rs. 1,35,212, that has been described as a "windfall," in connection with the special grants made by Government to the District Boards of Tippera and Bankura for relief works, remained in the hands of Government as "undistributed arrears of the annual augmentation grant"?

(b) What is the exact process of distributing the augmentation grant among the District Boards?

(c) Does this distribution lend itself to deviations of any kind by which such large sums can be left undistributed?

(d) To what periods do these arrears relate, and to what individual Boards do they rightfully belong?

(e) What were the circumstances in which the full augmentation grant was not allotted to the District Boards?

(f) How much has each of the District Boards not received owing to such non-allotment?

(g) Are the Government considering the desirability of compensating the Boards concerned for this loss?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) The grant of the special subventions referred to was made possible by the fact that a mistake was made in calculating the amount of the augmentation grant for the year 1913-14.

(b) Ordinarily the grant is distributed rateably the District Boards in proportion to their income from cesses, but Government have the right, which they exercised in the present case, to depart from this principle in exceptional cases to meet exceptional circumstances.

(c) The answer is in the negative.

(d) The arrears were of the year 1913-14. Neither these arrears nor any part of them rightfully belong to any District Boards.

Questions and Answers.

(e) and (f) The augmentation grant for 1913-14 as calculated was distributed rateably to all District Boards; and when it was discovered next year that the sum of Rs. 1,35,212 was still available, it was decided to make special grants to the District Boards of Bankura and Tippera for the relief of distress. Consequently no other District Boards received any part of this sum.

(g) No question of compensation arises. Therefore Government are not considering the desirability of compensating any District Boards."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Sanitary improvements in certain areas.

* 11. With reference to the statement, which was laid on the table in answer to my starred question No 2, asked at the meeting of the Council held on the 7th August, 1916, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of adopting special measures for improving the sanitary conditions of those areas where the death-rate has continued to be in excess of the birth-rate, or where the death-rate has been gradually increasing for some time past, as compared with the general death-rate of the province?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"The matter has been referred to the Sanitary Commissioner, whose report is awaited."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Water-supply registers and maps in District and Local Boards.

* 12. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement containing the names of the District and Local Boards in Bengal in which the preparation of water-supply registers and maps is complete, and also those in which it has not yet been completed?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"The preparation of both water-supply maps and registers is reported to have been completed in the districts of Hooghly, Howrah, Burdwan, Bankura, Birbhum, Midnapore, 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Khulna, Nadia, Dinajpur, Rangpur, Pabna, Malda, Dacca, Faridpur and Tippera.

The preparation of maps and registers has not yet been completed in the following districts :—

District.			Local Board.
Jessore	...	...	Sadar, Jhenida.
Noakhali	...	...	Sadar, Feni.
Jalpaiguri	...	...	.....
Chittagong	...	...	Six thanas.

Maps have not yet been prepared in the districts of Bogra, Bakarganj, Mymensingh and Rajshahi, but registers are complete in Bogra and Bakarganj and nearly complete in Mymensingh; they are not yet completed for the Naogaon and Sadar Local Boards of Rajshahi."

Insanitary condition of the Berhampore sluice.

* 13. With reference to the answer given to my starred question No. 30, asked at the Council Meeting of the 13th December, 1916, will the Government be pleased to state whether the estimates have been prepared to give effect to the improvement considered necessary by the Superintending Engineer, Central Circle, regarding the present insanitary condition of the Berhampore sluice on the Bhagirathi embankment?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" The Superintending Engineer, Central Circle, has been instructed to prepare detail estimates with plans for improvements to the Berhampore sluice so as to render it more sanitary. The estimates are expected shortly, and, when received, will be considered by Government. The sluice, culvert and drain are, however, not the property of Government but of the local Municipality."

Floods in Howrah district.

* 14. (a) With reference to the answer given to my starred question No. 24, asked at the Council Meeting of the 13th December, 1916, regarding the damage caused by the recent floods in the Damodar, will the Government be pleased to mention the names of the villages and thanas in the district of Howrah that have been so affected?

(b) Is it a fact that there were two high floods in the course of last year and that the crops were submerged for about four days each time in an area of 23 square miles lying between the Damodar and the Rupnarayan?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of directing the District Magistrate of Howrah to hold a local inquiry on the question as to whether there is any chance of raising boro paddy in the aforesaid affected area?

(d) Is it a fact that the first flood occurred towards the end of the month of Bhadra last when the work of transplanting rice was in progress?

(e) Is it a fact that the second flood occurred a fortnight after the first and before the plants had time to recover from the shock of the first flood?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) No area in the Howrah district was seriously affected by the Damodar floods. The inundated area was situated on the west bank of the Damodar in thanas Singti and Amta.

(b) There were two high floods on September 25th and September 30th, 1916. Crops were submerged for about four days on each occasion only in the lowest portions, about 12 square miles in area.

(c) There is not sufficient water in the area for the growth of boro paddy. Wherever the crop was damaged, a good crop of kalai, onions and potatoes is now in the fields.

(d) The answer is in the negative; both floods occurred in the middle of Aswin after transplantation had been completed.

(e) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply to (b)."

Temperance teachings in schools.

* 15. Will the Government be pleased to state what progress has been made in the matter of temperance teaching in schools in Bengal, in accordance with the orders of the Government of India contained in paragraph 4 of the Commerce and Industry Department Resolution, dated the 25th July, 1914?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" Lessons on temperance are included in the school readers, viz., in the books on hygiene for classes III—VI in West Bengal and in the Nature Lessons Manual for standards V—VII in Eastern Bengal. The question of incorporating lessons on temperance in the readers for higher classes will be considered when the syllabus for those classes is revised."

Inspection note on Halisahar Municipality.

* 16. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the inspection note dated the 30th July, 1910, by Mr. H. E. Spry, Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, on the Halisahar Municipality, in the district of the 24-Parganas.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" A copy of the inspection note is laid on the table."

Inspection note referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Donald to question No. 16 asked by the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

Inspection note of Halisahar Municipality made by Mr. H. E. Spry, Subdivisional Officer of Barrackpore on the 30th July, 1910.

I visited the Halisahar Municipal office on July 30, 1910, with the Vice-Chairman after inspecting the Kanchrapara Station Road.

2. I made a partial inspection of the office in the presence of the Vice-Chairman with the results noted below. The condition of the office seems to be far from satisfactory and I intend to inspect it in detail at the earliest opportunity.

3. Road.—A register has been opened in which are noted the names, lengths and descriptions of the roads in the various wards. There is no entry showing the annual expenditure on each of them. A mere list of roads without any account of their upkeep is not of much use. So far as I can gather, the present practice is to divide the allotment for roads equally between the four wards. Without going over the wards carefully I cannot say if this system is sound or not. But I may remind the Commissioners that it is more important to maintain properly trade routes, and important public throughfares, wherever they may be, than to aim at an equal distribution of the allotment.

The local Commissioners of each ward decide how the allotment is to be expended and they certify that the work has been properly carried out before the Contractors' bills are passed. They have an entirely free hand in spending the money. In future, I think the local Commissioners of each ward should submit a statement showing how it is proposed to expend the allotment. Their proposals should be passed by the Commissioners at a meeting before the work is commenced.

4. Taxation.—There is a tax on persons and a latrine tax. The new assessment has come into force from 1st April this year. The figures are :—

	New demand.			Old demand.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Tax on persons	7,406	8	0	6,987	11	6
Latrine tax	3,917	12	0	3,458	10	0
Total ...	11,324	4	0	10,446	5	6

The new figures do not seem to have been passed by the Commissioners at a meeting. The assessment was done by the Commissioners themselves, the local members assessing their own wards. There is no report explaining the reasons for the increase. The form of taxation is twofold the principal tax being a tax on persons and the latrine tax based on a tax on holdings.

Some interesting information might have been supplied by the Assessment Committee in giving the reasons for the increase, I still hope some sort of report will be drawn up and adopted.

Questions and Answers.

The new figures should certainly be passed by the Commissioners at a meeting.

So far there have been 189 appeals from a total number of tax payers of of 2,577. The last petition of appeal is dated the 20th July, 1910.

5. Securities of the Staff.—Great laxity has obtained in this matter. The Head Clerk is supposed to give security of Rs. 100 in cash. On 9th June, 1909, he deposited Rs. 25. since then he has deposited nothing. The Tax Daroga has to give Rs. 300 security in cash. His Pass-book shows two entries, viz., Rs. 50 on the 9th June, 1909, and Rs. 25 on the 20th June, 1910. Sub-overseer, Atul Krishna Srimani, made his first payment towards his security of Rs. 50 in 1901 when under the Naihati Municipality. The account has been transferred to the name of the Vice-Chairman, Halisahar Municipality, but during these nine years he has only deposited Rs. 24-13.

On September 1st, 1909, the Tax Daroga appointed Tax Collector Upendra Nath Banerji. He took no sanction of this, nor has the appointment been confirmed by any officer of the Municipality. This Tax Collector has given no security. He should deposit Rs. 25 without delay.

The executive should see that the full amounts of the securities are made up at an early date.

6. Accounts and Collections.—The bill books were with the Sarkars when I arrived, but one was subsequently produced. The Transit Register in which the Sirkars acknowlege the receipt of the bills is blank for 1910-11. The Tax Daroga could offer no explanation. I was unable to discover when the notices for the first quarter were issued. The demand slips do not appear to have been issued before May. Several have not been issued even now. The Tax Daroga told me many houses are unoccupied at this time of the year and consequently the bills cannot be served. I noticed, however, that in some cases notices had been served successfully but not the bills.

The cash-books reveal a surprising states of affairs. The present Vice-Chairman was appointed in November, 1909. Since his appointment he has never checked the Cashier's Cash-book, and in fact seemed scarcely cognizant of its existence. The Accountant's Cash-book was signed by him last on March 31st and the Imprest Cash-book at about the same time.

I view the whole of Cashier's Cash-book with suspicion. In the first place it had not been written up for twelve days and the Tax Daroga (who is the Cashier) could only tell me by guess work how much money he had in his hand. The money of course could have been counted, but there were no accounts by which to check it.

The entries show that the Cashier deposits money at Hooghly Treasury after what he considers suitable intervals. There seems to be no rule limiting the amount he is to retain at any time. He keeps the key of the safe as the Vice-Chairman lives at Kanchrapara.

Two instances will bring out the points I wish to draw attention to. On January 8th this year he had Rs. 1,262-9 in hand, being the receipts from the beginning of the month and the end of December. He deposited this sum in the Treasury on 27th January and between the 8th January and this date his Cash-book shows no transaction. On January 28th, however, money was again received almost daily.

On 31st January he had in hand Rs. 607-13-6 On February 16th he deposited this sum in the Treasury, and the Cash-book shows no transaction between January 31st and this date.

On February 17th receipts again came in. In the first place it appears that a clerk who is supposed to give security of Rs. 300 (out of which he has deposited only Rs. 75) is allowed to accumulate Rs. 1,262-9 and other large sums. The money is in his sole charge.

It seems curious to me that although there were almost daily transactions from January 1st to January 8th and from January 28th to January 31st there should have been none from 8th to the 27th. The Tax Daroga was unable to explain this and similar instances. A still more curious feature is that the Tax Daroga in every case anticipates exactly when payments will be made to him again, for he invariably deposits in the Treasury just one day before further receipts are obtained.

In some instances, I find he deposits only part of the money received by him.

It seems to me that the dates in this Cash-book are largely fictitious and the omission of the Vice-Chairman to look into it very unfortunate.

The Executive should not neglect the accounts in this way in future.

7. I found a number of wooden buckets lying in the office compound. I was told they are for the disposal of night-soil. If so, it is difficult to appreciate the reason for selecting wooden ones.

Sir Andrew Fraser Circular and the excavation of tanks.

* 17. With reference to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda in the course of the debate on the Rural Water-supply Resolution, moved in the Council by the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter in September last, are the Government considering the advisability of withdrawing the Sir Andrew Fraser Circular which insisted upon a local contribution of one-third of the total expenses of excavating tanks, etc. ?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The Circular of 1904, to which the Hon'ble Member refers, laid down inter alia that one-third of the cost of any project for improving the supply of drinking water in rural areas should be met from public subscriptions before a Government grant was made. This condition was withdrawn by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in 1908 and by the Government of Bengal in 1911. The orders contained in the Circular of 1904 applied only when grants were made by Government to District Boards for the improvement of the rural water supply and not when District Boards spent money for this purpose without receiving a Government subvention. As there appears to be considerable misapprehension on the subject, a circular will shortly issue explaining the position."

Magistrates and Revenue work in Burdwan.

I. With reference to the answer given to my question No. XXVII (unstarred) asked at the meeting of Council held on the 13th December last, will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact, that the Magistrates in the Burdwan district sitting in Court and doing judicial duties are interrupted in their work by having to attend to references from the Revenue and Miscellaneous Departments?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" Government are aware that this occasionally happens, but under the rules issued by the High Court for the conduct of criminal trials, the examination of a witness may not be interrupted for the purpose of enabling a Magistrate or Judge to attend, to other business, unless such business is of an urgent nature; and if the Magistrate or Judge is compelled to attend to such business, the examination of the witness must be suspended so long as such other business is being attended to. Government believe that these regulations are sufficient to prevent any serious inconvenience or interruption of judicial work."

(b) Are the Government aware that the Central National Muhammadan Association of Calcutta is a society which discusses political questions and expresses opinion on current political questions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

Nor may he attend any political meeting his presence at which is likely to be misconstrued or to impair his public usefulness.

(d) The activities of the Association have not hitherto been such as to justify Government in prohibiting Government servants from joining it."

" Is it a fact that the Central National Muhammadan Association does discuss questions affecting Indian Politics?

Report of the Electric Supply Committee.

XI. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the report submitted by the Committee appointed to advise Government on the question of the charges at present levied by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, for electric current supplied in Calcutta?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" The report is laid on the table."

Report referred to by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN in his Answer to Question No. XI (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble MR. EDEN at the Council meeting of the 23rd January, 1917.

IN a press communiqué dated the 7th June 1916, the Government of Bengal announced the appointment of a Committee to consider the question of the charges at present levied by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, for electric current supplied in Calcutta. They announced at the same time that this Committee would not commence its sittings until October or November 1916, when Mr Meares, Electrical Adviser to the Government of India, one of the members of the Committee, was expected to return from leave. On Mr. Meares' return to India in October last the public were informed by a press communiqué that the Committee would commence its sittings on the 8th November, and they were invited to submit their views, individually or through representative associations, on the question at issue. At the same time those public bodies and associations which had previously addressed Government were asked whether they had any further representations to put forward on the subject. The latter generally intimated that they had nothing to add to their former representations. From the general public a few communications were received, but these had reference mostly to details in the administrative working of the company, and had no bearing on the present issue. Mr. A J. Pugh, one of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, and Mr. W. H. Phelps, a member of the Trades Association, appeared and gave an expression of their views. We are indebted to these gentlemen for their advice. In regard to the financial position and the working of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, the information at our disposal was somewhat incomplete, and we found it necessary to make numerous enquiries from the Agent of the Corporation. Our obligations are due to Mr. Winkfield for the ready assistance that he has given us.

2. The question for our determination is whether any, and if so what, change should be made in the maximum rates as now fixed by Government. It may be explained here, as some misapprehension appears to exist on the point, that the powers of Government are limited to the fixation of maximum rates. The present maximum rates are eight annas per unit for lighting and four annas for fans, while the actual rates charged by the company are seven and four annas for lighting and fans, respectively. With rebates for prompt payment the actual cash rates are much lower and are five annas and three annas, respectively. In a consideration of the issue, both technical and financial considerations are involved. They are to a great extent interwoven. The former, relating to comparisons between the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, and other statutory undertakings of the same nature, we shall take up first. And in view of the comparisons made, in the representations of the various public bodies to the Government of Bengal, between the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation and various other undertakings, both in India and in England, we think it desirable to examine these comparisons in some detail. This is all the more essential as since 1914, when most of the letters in question were written, there have been considerable changes in the circumstances, which must be taken into account.

3. We are at the outset unable to understand how the critics of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation selected for comparison the undertakings mentioned in the various representations. Carefully selected data and averages can be made to prove or disprove any statement, but it is essential for purposes of comparison that the main criteria should be similar It is not fair to make a comparison between undertakings belonging to limited liability companies and those of local authorities. The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation is a limited liability company : yet the critics in making comparisons with British concerns have instanced only Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow, Dundee, Coventry, Stepney, Accrington and Birmingham —all local authority undertakings—and have not referred to a single British company. The distinction is of importance. The terms on which capital is raised are entirely different in the two classes of undertaking; the one has to pay dividends, but not the other; and while a company almost invariably meets with a certain amount of healthy opposition from the local authority, in the exercise of its powers, the other body necessarily has the whole-hearted support of all the ratepayers who are not interested in rival sources such as gas. Again, undertakings run by plant using fuel cannot fairly be compared with those having water power. There is a fundamental difference which the lay mind should readily be able to grasp A hydro-electric station costs the same day by day, hour by hour, whether it is running at its full capacity or absolutely idle; the expenses, mainly capital charges, but including also labour and management, are practically a fixed sum independent of the units generated. In a fuel operated station, on the other hand, every extra unit generated involves the extra expenditure of a calculable amount of fuel. In the former case, if the plant is not fully loaded at certain hours each day, or for certain months each year, the sale of power can profitably be undertaken at rates far below the average generating costs; the increased revenue, whatever it may be, is a set-off against the definite fixed expenditure But with steam plant, where the extra cost of fuel has to be taken into account, there are obvious limits to the price at which energy can be sold profitably, which are non-existent with water power. Calcutta cannot possibly therefore be compared with Darjeeling, Simla and Mussoorie.

Questions and Answers.

It is further useless to base comparisons on the population of Indian and European cities, since a great proportion of the population of an Indian town is of a class which would never be able to pay for installing or hiring lights and fans; while in Europe every one is a potential consumer.

4. There remain, as bases of comparison, two criteria which are more or less fair; Plant Capacity and Load Factor. Neither is perfect, and true comparison between undertakings is a matter of expert experience alone; but these methods are at least free from the defects pointed out above and may be made plain to the man in the street. Before discussing these comparisons we must, however, emphasize that—

(i) Conditions in India and in Great Britain are by no means exactly parallel

(ii) Conditions differ greatly from place to place, whether in India or in England, as to fuel, water supply, labour, climate and so forth; the tables appended to this report exhibit these differences, and prove that averages are at best misleading, although somewhat fairer than isolated examples.

5. In Table I we have set out a comparison of the results of working of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, with those of companies in England of about the same Plant Capacity. The authorities for this table are :—

Primary.—Tables of Costs and Records of the " Electrical Times," dated 5th October 1916.

Subsidiary—

Tables of Electricity Undertakings in the British Isles; the " Electrician," 1916.

Tables of Colonial and Foreign Electricity Supply Works; the " Electrician," 1916.

Garcke's Manual of Electrical Undertakings, 1915-16.

Accounts of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited.

It will be observed that the only company undertakings comparable on this basis are six in London; the Central Electric Supply Company is omitted as it only supplies in bulk for traction. All other companies with a plant capacity between 20,000 and 30,000 kilowatts (Calcutta 21,000) are brought into the table, and their results are also averaged. As regards the rate per unit for lighting, it will be observed that the Charing Cross Company has the same limits as Calcutta, while the other London companies all have higher rates. The chief factors appear to be the higher rent, rates and taxes and the greater cost of fuel in London; coupled with a lower load factor. It will also be seen that the amount placed to depreciation and reserve is far less in London than in Calcutta. The provision is, in our opinion, far too low in the former case; and we attribute this to the results of competition between the various companies, of which two are generally competing in each area of supply.

6. In Table II we show the only Indian company undertakings at all comparable with Calcutta on the basis of plant, though they are both much smaller. Hydro-electric installations, for reasons explained, are omitted. The comparison with Bombay and Madras is, however, vitiated by the fact that both have tramway systems as an integral part of their undertakings, whereas the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation does not supply power to the tramways and is not financially connected with the Calcutta Tramways Company. An average has not been struck here, as it would serve no useful purpose. The limits of price per unit for lighting are a fraction lower in Bombay than in Calcutta, which is accounted for at once by the much higher load factor, due mainly to the tramways, were the fuel costs more nearly alike the difference would be considerably greater. The financial position of the Madras Electric Supply Company is such that comparisons are beside the mark.

7. Table III is a comparison between the Calcutta undertakings and those of British companies having high " load factors." As some of the letters before us show that the meaning of this term is not clearly understood it may be explained that the annual load factor is " the ratio of the actual output in units delivered to consumers to the possible output if the maximum load were constantly in use throughout the year,"or

$$\text{Load factor} = \frac{\text{Number of units sold} \times 100}{\text{Maximum simultaneous load in Kw.} \times \text{hours of supply period}} = x \text{ \%}.$$

It will be seen that not one of the undertakings has as good a load factor as Calcutta, and the net has been spread widely to draw in enough concerns to make the table representative. Several quite small provincial companies are thus brought in, which render an average useless in the latter half of the table. The Newcastle undertaking, which heads this section, is really in a class by itself. For reasons already explained the Central Electric Supply Company has been omitted; and some of the undertakings in Table I are repeated here. In the provincial list companies purchasing supply in bulk for distribution are omitted; Dumbarton, Montrose and Hawick, which are branches of various companies combining several undertakings under one management, are omitted. Every other undertaking within the limits given is included. The limits of price per unit for lighting (excluding war increases) are generally about the same in the English undertakings as in Calcutta; a little higher in London on the average, though lower in specific cases in the Provinces. The differences are hardly such as to merit comment.

8. Table No. IV gives the average prices per unit, so far as they can be found in the authorities quoted, for all the companies in the other three tables, together with other data of interest. The facts set forth in these tables can be verified from the authorities themselves; but it may be specially noted that the towns are not selected but embrace all within the limits stated for which the data are available and comparable.

9. We would commend these tables to the careful consideration of Government. They give for the reasons above stated a fairly accurate statement of the working of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation as compared with similar companies in England and must be accepted in preference to the rather misleading comparisons made in the letters from the Calcutta Trades Association and the Anglo-Indian Association.

10. It may be convenient if we refer briefly to a few other points dealt with by the critics. The statement is made in the original letter of the Trades Association that in Simla, Mussoorie and Darjeeling " the lighting rate charged at each station is only 4 annas; they have no fan load." We would observe that Simla and Mussoorie have a very large pumping load, and that Darjeeling supplies power to many tea gardens; these supplies are even better than a fan load, as they are confined to the hours when there is no lighting load. All these three Municipal hydro-electric plants have also a large heating load in the winter, at rates from ½ to 1 anna per unit.

11. The Anglo-Indian Association quoted the case of Birmingham. The average prices per unit according to Garcke's Manual, 1915-16, page 169, are slightly below those given by them, but the fact that these average prices are for all units sold for all purposes (including some 24 million units for traction), and not merely domestic consumption, renders any comparison with Calcutta very misleading.

The same Association remarks that " Looking at a list of 22 British Electric Supply and Power companies. . . . . and, as has been seen, the rates charged to the public are much lower than in Calcutta." It is somewhat remarkable that not a single company other than the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation is mentioned in the letter; and the tables we give disprove this statement entirely as regards companies comparable in plant capacity and load factor.

Questions and Answers.

12. In connection with the remarks of Mr. McCabe, the late Chief Engineer to the Calcutta Corporation, " that the cost of labour (in England) is always very much greater " and that " No one has ever suggested that labour per unit is dearer here than in England," we would draw attention to the tables appended, which, following those of the " Electrical Times," show that establishment is divided up under three heads. " Wages " covers wages at generating station only. Here the Calcutta cost is ·04 penny against averages of ·11 in Tables I and ·10 and ·09 in the two parts of Table III. Secondly, wages on maintenance, etc., are included under that heading. Calcutta stands at ·17 against an average of ·16 in Table I and ·18 and ·14 in Table III. Thirdly, supervision is included in management, etc., and in comparing India with England the higher cost of supervision must in fairness be set off against the lower cost of labour. The figures for management are Calcutta ·26, London ·22 and Provincial ·15.

13. There are some points in the letter from the Chairman, Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to which exception might be taken, but they are of somewhat a minor character and do not bear greatly on the question under reference. We would remark however that although new types of metal filament glow lamps have increased the number of candle-power hours obtainable from a unit, yet in most cases an increase in the standard of lighting rather than a decrease in consumption has eventually been the result.

14. We have entered into the foregoing details at possibly greater length than was necessary, but the misleading comparisons that have been made, and the inaccurate statement that the Electric Supply Corporation paid a dividend of 11 per cent. in 1913—a statement which doubtless largely influenced the Corporation of Calcutta in its discussions on the subject—seem to have given a rather wide impression that as compared with other similar concerns the Electric Supply Corporation is unreasonable and that it has been exploiting Calcutta in the interests of its shareholders at the expense of the consuming public.

15. The question at issue cannot however be determined on a comparison of the position of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation with other similar concerns in other parts of the world. It must be determined with reference to the present position of the company and to the interests of the public in general. A brief reference to the company's financial operations from its inception will be useful in dealing with this aspect of the problem.

16. Through the exertions of Colonel R E. Crompton, C.B., a license was granted on the 7th January 1897 to Messrs. Kilburn & Co. as Agents for a preliminary company called the Indian Electric Supply Company, Limited, registered in London with a capital of £1,000. In February 1897 the name of the company was changed to that of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited (its present name), with an increased capital of £100,000, which on the 11th May 1900 was increased to £200,000. On the 18th July 1902 a further increase to £500,000 was sanctioned, which again was increased to £1,000,000 on the 19th July 1907. At this figure the capital of the company stands to-day, although powers were taken on the 28th May 1914 for an additional increase to £1,500,000. The present subscribed capital is divided into 100,000 5 per cent. preference shares of £5 each and 100,000 ordinary shares of £5 each.

17. A contract was entered into with Messrs. Crompton & Co., Limited, to erect and equip a generating station in Emambagh Lane with plant of 1,000 kilowatts capacity and to provide and lay the necessary mains for a sum of £65,000, which figure was to include the actual expenses of obtaining the license, estimated at £3,000. We desire to draw special attention to this information in view of the insinuation of a member of the Corporation of Calcutta that the Electric Supply Corporation was loaded with a dead weight of capital upon which it has to find dividends and provide depreciation. We are of opinion that the facts do not warrant the insinuation.

18. The supply of current for lights, fans and power has increased from 412,950 units in 1900 to 21,081,928 in 1915, necessitating a capital outlay of £1,380,827 to the 31st December 1915. Owing to the steady increase in the demand, several sub-stations were erected to cope with the situation, but in 1909-10 it was decided by the company to erect one central station with the most up-to-date generating plant. The supply of current from the new central station was commenced on the 20th July 1912. As much of the old plant as was found suitable was used in the erection of the new station, but it has been found impossible to utilise a certain amount of the machinery plant, etc., which cost originally £104,709. Against this sum the company estimate that out of the amounts set aside for depreciation in the three years ending 31st December 1915, £48,143 has been applied in reduction of this figure, leaving £55,566, for which provision still requires to be made. It has been urged that the loss caused by the scrapping of the old plant should fall on the shareholders only, and should not operate against a reduction in the charges to the consumer. We are unable wholly to agree with this contention. The plant originally erected was the most up-to-date that could have been used with prudence, and the present generating system was only in its infancy in 1897. At the same time we cannot but think that it would have been better if the company had deferred any increase in the dividend to the ordinary shareholders until this unproductive item had been entirely wiped off their books.

19. The Reserve fund of £126,703 as appearing in the company's balance sheet at 31st December 1915, was started with a sum of £90,000 realized from premiums upon the issue of shares, the balance being taken from revenue. It is obvious therefore that this figure has not been raised at the expense of the consumer.

With reference to the sum of £229,443 now at credit of the Depreciation and Renewals account, as has already been pointed out, the rate of depreciation written off by the company at present is higher than that obtaining in other companies of a similar nature in England, but the Committee is informed that this subject did not receive due consideration in the earlier years of the existence of the company, and that therefore it has been found necessary to set aside during the past few years larger amounts than would otherwise have been considered necessary. Some saving under this heading may consequently be expected in the near future.

20. The Corporation of Calcutta have given expression to the view that great savings have been effected by the new plant. That this is the case is abundantly clear from the following figures for the last complete year under the old system and for the year 1915 :—

	Gross revenue.	Total costs.	Units sold.
1911	151,905	56,308	10,566,038
1915	224,206	61,284	21,081,928

During this period the net profits have increased from £95,597 to £162,922, and this notwithstanding a reduction in 1914 of ½ an anna in the price of light current and in 1915 of eight annas in the meter rent. There was a further reduction of ½ an anna in the present year. The Committee is informed that these reductions represent an annual decrease of about £25,000 in the revenue of the company. It may be noted that the increase of 1 per cent. in the dividend which the ordinary shareholders obtained cost the company £5,000 per annum.

21. From the facts set out in the foregoing paragraphs and an examination of the accounts of the company we cannot but come to the conclusion that there is a sufficient margin to admit of a further reduction in the cash price per unit for lighting. There has been a reduction of one anna since the agitation for lower rates commenced in 1914. This reduction was, we think, unduly delayed, and it would, as we have suggested, have been more fitting if the additional profits had been utilised in wiping out the loss on the old plant rather than increasing the dividend to the shareholders. At the same time, having in mind that the powers of Government are limited to the fixing of maximum rates, we are strongly opposed to the adoption of measures to coerce the company to effect a reduction in their charges. Such measures are, we consider, justified only when a company shows an unreasonable attitude, giving greater consideration to its shareholders than to its consumers. We are not convinced that the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation has been unreasonable towards the Calcutta public, and we have shown that the arguments of the critics on this point are generally misleading and fallacious. It must be remembered that any coercive interference with the existing rates at the present time precludes interference again for a period of seven years, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that if the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation were now compelled to reduce their rates they would be disinclined to make any concession that might be possible within the next seven-year period. The immediate interests of the public cannot in such circumstances be considered apart from their interests during the period that must elapse before a further revision could be made. It appears clear to us that, with the general expansion of the business of the company and consequent increased income, a reduction in the existing rates can reasonably be looked for at an early date. And apart from this, the total elimination of the loss on the old plant is likely to be effected within the next three or four years. The company will then be in a position to make a substantial reduction in the rates. We would strongly deprecate any measure which would endanger such a prospect.

22. The opinion that we have expressed in the foregoing paragraph is based on normal conditions. Present abnormal conditions enhance the arguments against any interference with existing rates. War conditions, such as restricted lighting, restricted coal output and shortage of labour, have caused very many British companies to raise their rates by 10 or 15 per cent. in the last year. These factors have not affected the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation appreciably; but the difficulty of obtaining new plant and the prohibition of the manufacture of copper wire must necessarily limit the possible expansion of the business. Even if the evidence showed the company's present charges to be so unreasonable as to call for compulsory revision, we are of opinion that the present time would be most unsuitable for so drastic a measure. It is equitable that all applicants shall be able to obtain the supply they require; but it is probable that if a large additional demand arose for lighting—and it is the rates for lighting which are criticised most strongly—the company might be unable to obtain the plant and mains to supply it. In this connexion the fact that the maximum demands of all lighting consumers occur almost at the same hour is very important. Owing to its better diversity factor a much greater demand for power, especially industrial power, could be met without any difficulty.

23. And apart from the particular case of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, we would represent that the interference of Government in a matter of rates, save in exceptional circumstances, is to be strongly deprecated in the interests of electrical development generally. There are many places which do not at present enjoy the benefits of electric fans and light, although they are anxious to obtain them. For this to be possible capital must be raised either by companies or by local authorities. During the 20 years since the Darjeeling Municipality led the way very few local authorities have followed suit, despite the success of the pioneer installation and of those at Mussoorie and Simla. Unless those "adventurers" to whom in a meeting of the Corporation of Calcutta reference was made by Mr. Tremearne, in forgetfulness of the fact that the Indian Empire arose out of a company of such "adventurers," come forward, obtain concessions and float a concern, there seems little likelihood of an increase in India in those electrical facilities which prevail so largely in all other countries, to the greater comfort and well-being of the population. These adventurers, will, we fear, not be forthcoming if there is any likelihood of unreasonable interference in their operations.

24. There are two other points on which we think it desirable to express an opinion. The question of a flat rate has been made the subject of some discussion, and objections have been raised to the differential rates for lighting, power, cooking, etc. We would only remark in this connection that differential rates are universally adopted, whether the supply is under municipal or company management. It has been found advantageous to the majority of the consumers. A discussion of the question of a flat rate is also of little value, seeing that most houses have already been wired both for light and for fans No advantage would, we are convinced, be secured to the consumer by the adoption of a flat rate.

25. It has further been urged that there should be no distinction in the rates charged to the small and to the large consumer. This contention is at variance with the ordinary commercial principle by which the big purchaser obtains an advantage over the small purchaser in the matter of rates, and we are not prepared to support it. The rates payable by Government have been brought to prominence in this connection, and we think it advisable to give the following information with regard to the special rebate allowed to Government through being permitted to " pool " their consumption. The Government is at present by far the largest consumer of current for lights and fans in Calcutta. Last year, i.e., for the 12 months ending 31st December 1915. the number of units supplied for all purposes to Government was 1,800,129 out of a total consumption in Calcutta of 21,081,928. This represents 8·5 per cent. of the total consumption, and as an ordinary commercial proposition it can hardly be maintained that Government are not entitled to some special rate on so large a consumption. We do not think however that the present arrangement is very satisfactory. We would recommend as a measure preferable to the present system that Government should enter into a contract with the company under section 23 (1) of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

XIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the total length of railways, in miles, of each particular gauge, in the province; and in what length of each class of railway the District Boards are financially interested and to what extent? District Boards and Railways.

(b) What profit is guaranteed by the District Boards to each of these railways and what profit was made or loss incurred by each of these railways during the last five years, and in what manner and to what extent were the District Boards concerned affected thereby?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

The length of railways, in miles, of each particular gauge in this province on 31st March, 1916, was as follows :—

	Miles.
Standard gauge	1,384·16
Metre gauge	1,180·81
2′ 6″ gauge	190·05
2′ 0″ gauge	183·40

Bengal Duars Railway.—The District Board of Jalpaiguri is financially interested in the Bengal Duars Railway (original line, length 36·40 miles), which is on the metre gauge. The District Board, by an agreement dated the 27th April, 1891, has agreed to pay to the Railway Company out of the District fund, an annual subsidy of such amount, not exceeding Rs. 4,000, as may be required to make up the net profit in each year to 5 per cent. on the capital sum expended. The District Board does not participate in the surplus profits of the Company.

Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway.—The District Board of the 24-Parganas is financially interested in the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway (total length 52·24 miles), which is a line on the 2′ 6″ gauge. The District Board, by an agreement dated the 14th December, 1897, has guaranteed to supplement the net earnings of the Company by such annual subsidy as may be necessary to make the net profits of the Company equivalent to Rs. 1,500 per annum per mile of line open, provided that the total contribution by the Board does not exceed Rs. 38,000 per annum, being 4 per cent. on the amount of the Company's share capital. Surplus profits in excess of 4 per cent. on the Company's share capital are divisible equally between the District Board and the Company.

Jessore-Jhenidah Railway.—The District Board of Jessore is financially interested in the Jessore-Jhenidah Railway (length 36·80 miles), which is on the 2′-6″ gauge. The District Board has guaranteed to supplement the net earnings of the Railway Company by such annual subsidy as may be necessary to make up a dividend of 4 per cent. per annum on the Company's paid up share capital, provided that the total sum so payable by the District Board shall not in any one year exceed the sum of Rs. 32,000. Surplus profits in excess of 4 per cent. on the Company's paid up share capital are to be divided between the Company and the District Board in equal shares.

Howrah-Amta Light Railway.—The District Board of Howrah is financially interested in the Howrah-Amta Light Railway (total length 43·87 miles), which is on the 2′ 0″ gauge. The District Board has guaranteed to pay to the Company by way of interest on the capital expended, such sum of money as may be required to make the net profits of the Company equivalent to a dividend at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, provided that the Board is not involved on this account in a greater liability than Rs. 1,100 per annum per mile constructed and opened with a maximum of Rs. 28,000 per annum. Net profits in excess of 4 per cent. upon the capital for the time being of the Company are to be divided in equal proportions between the District Board and the Company.

Howrah Sheakhala Light Railway.—The District Board of Hooghly is financially interested in the Howrah-Sheakhala Light Railway (total length 19·75 miles), which is on the 2′ 0″ gauge. The District Board has guaranteed to make up the net profits of the Company to a dividend of 4 per cent. per annum on the capital actually paid up and expended, subject to a maximum of Rs. 950 per annum per mile of the line constructed and open. Net profits in excess of 4 per cent. upon the capital outlay are divisible between the District Board and the Company in the proportion of one-third to the former and two-thirds to the latter.

The net earnings of the above five railways during the last five years are as follows :—

† The loss of revenue of the Jessore-Jhenidah Railway from 1914-15 and 1915-16 was Rs. 16,468 and Rs 49,039, respectively.

The District Board of Jalpaiguri was not affected in any way, as the Board was not called upon to pay anything to the Bengal Duars Railway Company by way of subsidy under the terms of their agreement with the Railway Company.

Questions and Answers.

The District Boards of the 24-Parganas, Howrah and Hooghly received the following sums from the Baraset-Basirhat, Howrah-Amta and Howrah-Sheakhala Light Railway Companies, respectively, by way of their shares in surplus profits during the last five years :—

* N.B.—The figures given are those reported by the District Boards, and included in Form II which is appended to the annual Resolution on District Boards. They do not agree with those given in the Administration Report on Railways in India for the year 1914-15. The discrepancy has not yet been reconciled.

The Jessore-Jhenidah Railway is working at a loss, and the amount recoverable from the District Board of Jessore under the guarantee is as follows :—

	Rs.
For the quarter ending 31st March, 1914	8,000
For the year ending 31st March, 1915	32,000
For the year ending 31st March, 1916	32,000

The District Board of Jessore, however, deny liability on the ground that the Railway Company have failed to fulfil the terms of their contract with the Board and that the agreement is no longer binding on the Board. The matter has been referred to arbitration."

Investing of Local Boards with larger powers.

XIV. With reference to the statement made in paragraph 4 of the recent Government Resolution on the reports of the District Boards, will the Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, they are taking with a view to invest Local Boards with larger powers in the management of local affairs?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The powers of the Local Boards in the management of local affairs are limited by the provisions of the Local Self-Government Act, under which they act as agents of the District Boards. The Government of Bengal are contemplating legislation for a reconstitution of the system of Village Self-Government and in the meantime do not propose to take steps to secure larger powers for Local Boards."

Appointment of the Deputy Director of Fisheries in Bengal.

XX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state :—

(i) the understanding and conditions on which the Secretary of State first sanctioned the appointment of the Deputy Director of Fisheries for two years;

(ii) the consideration that led the Secretary of State to extend the period of service for a further period of two years, without making the appointment permanent;

(iii) the recommendation or representations that were made by the Local Government, upon which the appointment has since been made permanent?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table all such further correspondence or papers that may throw some light upon this subject?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) In 1911 the Secretary of State sanctioned proposals which had been submitted by the Government of Bengal for the appointment, on a two years' agreement capable of extension to four years, of a Deputy Director of Fisheries. Mr. Southwell was appointed to hold the post in December, 1911, and at the end of two years his appointment was extended for a further period of two years in accordance with the terms of his agreement.

On the expiry of the period of four years, the Government of Bengal, after considering the work which had been done and the prospects of useful work in the future, recommended that the appointment should be made permanent. In his despatch of 7th July, 1916, the Secretary of State has sanctioned a permanent appointment.

(b) The Government do not consider it necessary to lay on the table any papers to elucidate the facts which have been explained."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR, laid on the table a statement containing the information promised in his reply to clauses (b) and (c) of question No. XXV (unstarred) regarding the revolutionary movement in Bengal, asked at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 7th August, 1916.—See Appendix to these Proceedings.

STATEMENT BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE PRESIDENT.

His Excellency said :—

" Before proceeding further with the business on the paper, I wish to make a statement.

I have found, on examining the printed proceedings of the last meeting of this Council that two Hon'ble Members used in their speeches words which appear to me to convey aspersions on the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court. I regret that I did not clearly hear these words at the time when they were uttered ; if I had done so I should have called the Hon'ble Members using them to order. I wish that the Council should know this, in order that the fact that such words were allowed to pass may not be considered as a precedent."

RESOLUTIONS

(Under the Rules for the Discussion of Matters of General Public Interest.)

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM, with the permission of the President, withdrew the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the pleaders, mukhtars, witnesses and parties belonging to the Muhammadan community, when attending in the Civil and Criminal Courts of the Presidency, may be allowed facilities to say their Juma and midday prayers, and that presiding officers may be specially instructed to grant, on request, to any person of that community, reasonable leave of absence from the Court for the performance of these religious duties.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that immediate steps be taken to protect from damage by floods the areas of land on the two sides of the Gumti river in the district of Tipperah, between Bibirbazar and Jaffarganj.

He said :—

"My Lord, the Resolution which I have the honour of moving for your Excellency's acceptance does not ask for any political concession or advancement on any other line ; it is not a resolution based on sentiment ; it is a very modest resolution seeking to draw the attention of Your Excellency's Government to a question which, it will be no exaggeration to say, is a question of life and death to a vast population.

The ravages of the Gumti floods are no less serious and extensive than those of the Damodar floods, but the outside world knows and hears very little of the former, the obvious reason being that East Bengal questions do not receive that amount of attention from the Calcutta press which they legitimately deserve. I am afraid there may be some even amongst the Hon'ble Members of this House who may not know anything about the annual devastation of the Gumti in the district of Tippera. But the answer by my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Green to a few questions of mine at the last meeting of the Council are quite sufficient to reveal a state of things which neither the Government nor the public can contemplate with equanimity. My Hon'ble colleagues may form some idea about the gravity of the situation from the official account furnished to us of the havoc committed by one single flood, viz., that of October last. The Hon'ble Mr. Green has told us that the flood inundated a vast tract of country extending over 100 square miles and that the loss sustained by the poor raiyats by the destruction of the standing paddy crops alone might be estimated at Rs. 6 lakhs. There is a shrewd suspicion, my Lord, in certain quarters that the Government always take an optimistic view of these matters and that the official version of such distress is not infrequently very much under estimated. This suspicion may or may not be well-founded. At all events the Government version in these matters is not that of an alarmist. And even this supposed roseate version is sufficient to indicate the magnitude of the evil. Over and above the destruction of crops there was the damage to houses and other properties which was also not inconsiderable. Besides, the dislocation and discomfort caused by the flood can be imagined only by those who like my Hon'ble friend the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell witnessed on more than one occasion the suffering of the people on the spot. All this, however, represents the effects of the floods of one year only. My Lord, we have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Green that according to expert professional opinion the chances of breaches in the Gumti embankment are steadily increasing from year to year and that the consequent floods will not, like angels' visits, be few and far between, but an annual visitation. This is not mere speculation and theorising. As a matter of fact there have been breaches and floods every year for some years past.

Resolution.

[Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.]

Now, my Lord, I am anxious to call Your Excellency's attention to the fact that the disastrous Gumti floods are not of recent origin. The people of the doomed area have been victims of these floods from the very commencement of the British rule. I quote the following from one of the Eastern Bengal district Gazetteers.

Again in 1784 there were floods and the embankment along the Gumti gave way." The Resident wrote : 'The depth of water in any part of these parganas is not less than 10 feet, and in many parts is 20 feet. The memory of men does not furnish an instance of such floods.' "Mehorkul seems to have suffered worst. At the time the only measures taken were to stop collections and repair the embankment, but in the following cold weather the rabi crop failed, and the people were left starving ; 1,500 were fed daily by the Resident, but he estimated that 7,000 people died of the famine, and that 12,000 had gone away to other parts in search of relief."

"The same book gives us an account of the flood caused by breaches in the Gumti embankment in 1788, as follows :—

"In 1788 the Gumti embankment was breached, the price of coarse rice rose to 23 seers a rupee, which was considered abnormally high, and the Collector of Chittagong, sanctioned agricultural loans and temporary remissions of revenue to meet the dreadful state of the district."

We read again the following account of the floods in 1794.

"In 1794 the Gumti embankment burst again causing much damage, and the Resident proposed that it should either be levelled, or that permanent gaps should be made in it to allow the water to escape gradually when it passed a certain height."

In 1883, Mr. D. B. Horn, the then Executive Engineer, observed : "Scarcely a year passes without a breach taking place somewhere along the line, when a large tract of country is inundated, the rice crop destroyed, and the lives of the villagers and cattle more or less endangered. In 1875 a large breach occurred at Jaknipara, and but for the prompt measures adopted by the Collector there might have been great loss of life and property."

Mr. Webster, I. C. S., the author of the Gazetteer, observes : "At one time breaches in this embankment were so frequent and so disastrous that its abandonment was suggested, and as an alternative the north embankments from Solanel to Jatrapur was lowered in 1893 so as to allow an easier exit to the water in high flood. Even so the river level during the rains is considerably above that of the surrounding country and breaches of the embankment are not infrequent. In 1906 the embankment was breached in several places, and serious damage was caused to crops over large tracts of country. The inundations caused by the breaches at Subarnapur, about four miles above Comilla and Edharpur about eight miles below Comilla, were specially destructive."

So we find that the ravages of the Gumti flood have gone on unchecked and unmitigated for about a hundred and fifty years, that they have now come down from generation to generation and they have acquired a prescriptive

Resolution.

[Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.]

and hereditary right to destroy our crops and cattle and wash away our huts and moveables. In fact the Hon'ble Mr. Green has told us that they are now to be looked upon as ordinary incidents of the rainy season even in years of normal rainfall.

Now, my Lord, our people are quite prepared to put up with all manner of sufferings if they are due to "act of God" over which no human power has any control. There are no people on the face of the earth who know better than the fatalist peasantry of Bengal how to accept the inevitable in a spirit of perfect resignation and without any murmur on their lips. The question, however, arises, why should the Gumti problem remain unsolved for such a length of time? Is it absolutely incapable of solution? Have we got no manner of control over the Gumti floods? Is the evil absolutely irremediable? Those are questions which are bound to strike the most unimaginative mind. But to our great relief we have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Green in reply to my interpellation that according to expert opinion it is quite possible to control the floods and that the evils arising from the Gumti are not irremediable.

This leads us to the question what steps, if any, have been taken to prevent the recurrence of these disastrous floods.

The only preventive measure taken up to date is an embankment which consists of two earthen banks on either side of the river from Bibirbazar where it debouches into the plains to Jaffarganj, a distance of 20 miles. This is a very old embankment. Nobody knows when and by whom it was built up. But we have good reasons to believe that it existed before the overthrow of the Muhammadan power. It is now universally admitted by the scientist that an embankment, however valuable it may be, as a temporary measure, is in the long run a very unsound and unscientific remedy. In fact it is now an established truth that the gradually increasing intensity of the floods is due mainly to the embankment itself. It was a sovereign remedy in the beginning but judged by the after-effects it is simply suicidal. The inevitable effect of the embankment is gradually but steadily to raise the bed of the river and to raise the surface of the water above the level of the surrounding country year after year. It may be truly said of the embankment that it cures the disease but kills the patient. It leads the future generations from the frying pan into the fire. It is now long since science has condemned the system of embankment. Whatever justification, therefore, there might have been for those who constructed it as a makeshift device and temporary patch work, surely it cannot feel grateful to those who are responsible for the continuances and maintenance of it. On the 3rd March, 1883, Mr. D. B. Horn wrote "that it is unfortunate that the embankments should ever have been constructed, as they have tended to raise considerably the flood level of the river above the surrounding country, and particularly that portion of the river between Bibirbazar and Comilla. That so long as the embankments are kept up, the flood level will continue to rise and that the question of abandoning whole or part of the embankments should now be carefully considered." In the same year Mr. Vertaness remarked "that this instance of the upper portion of a river being embanked is almost unique, and, as might be expected, the results are disastrous." As soon as the suicidal after-effects of the embankment were recognised, it was the duty of the authorities to replace it or to have it replaced at once by other suitable and scientific protective works. But it is a matter of profound regret that those who are responsible for affording protection to the people failed conspicuously in the discharge of this important and sacred duty—a duty which they owed and owe to the dumb peasantry of several parganas. It is not a question of sentiment or luxury but a question literally of life and death to them. It should be remembered that the bulk of the population of this hapless and helpless tract of country is exclusively agricultural. It is a pity of all pities that during a century and a half of British rule nothing has been done to save a vast agricultural population from the ravages of a once periodical and now annual flood—floods which the Government admits can be controlled and regulated by suitable safeguards and protective works. Was it proper, with all the modern scientific resources at our disposal, to leave so many of His Majesty's British subjects to the tender mercies of these destructive and disastrous floods?

Resolution.

[Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.]

The victims of the Gumti floods are no doubt a dumb people who only curse their fate and suffer in silence. And although there has never been any agitation over the matter still the distress caused is so widespread that it could not possibly escape the attention of the Government. It is now well nigh a hundred years that the Government fully realised the gravity of the situation and the Gumti problem is said and is supposed to have engaged the attention of the Government ever since. We have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Green that the Government have made endeavours in this behalf from before 1845. But may I ask what were the endeavours? In what direction were they made? The very simple, cheap and ineffective scheme of a retired line of embankment have no doubt been tried in some parts. But can anybody contradict me when I say that beyond the fragments of a retired line the endeavours of the Government have been confined merely to such patchwork as the lowering and demolishing in some parts of the old embankment and the repairing of the same in certain others? The Hon'ble Mr. Green could not put his case higher than this that the Government have all along endeavoured to see that the bunds are so managed as to do as much good and as little harm as possible. Is it all that the Government owed to the people of the unprotected area? Engineer after Engineer have been deputed by the Government to inquire and report on the Gumti embankment; Conference after Conference of the highest officials have been held to consider and solve the problem. This has been going on for three quarters of a century, if not more. The reports of these Engineers and the proceedings of the Conferences, together with the Resolutions of the Government recorded thereon, have assumed unwieldy proportions and the result is now a blue book of considerable dimensions. I have carefully gone through the pages of this portentous volume. But I am constrained to observe that the study is neither profitable nor inspiring. It is one long continuous tale of mere inquiries and discussions and reports and resolutions and suggestions—a tale of remedies approved and decided upon with some preliminary steps sometimes taken to give effect to them and then disapproved and discontinued—a story of halting and half-hearted measures adopted not very enthusiastically and dropped a while after with a feeling of relief, as it were, on the excuse of a conflicting expert opinion. No man can leave the book without a feeling of keen disappointment. What an amount of time and energy has been expended upon the matter and how unprofitably! It is not even the case of a mountain in labour for we have not even had a poor mouse except those which are busy making holes in the bund of the embankment.

The schemes suggested by the professed experts are the construction of escapes and the construction of a reservoir to hold up a portion of the Gumti flood.

The Hon'ble Mr. Green has told us that the scheme of escape channels first came under the consideration of the Government in 1884. He has further told us that this scheme is still under consideration. It is certainly not a very edifying and inspiring story that the Government should have taken more than thirty years to formulate and elaborate the scheme in a matter of such momentous character. And for aught we know they have not yet come to any decision whatsoever. We are to-day exactly where we were thirty years before. In the meantime there have been breaches and floods on occasions too numerous to be detailed causing untold miseries to the public. It is impossible for us to make even a rough estimate of the loss occasioned by the destruction of crops during the time the Government have been

Resolution.

[Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.]

considering the schemes. The well-informed and moderate opinion is that the total loss in crops alone during all this time will not be less than a crore of rupees. The Hon'ble Mr. Green has told us that neither of the two schemes has been attempted up to now as they involve grave difficulties—difficulties engineering, financial and administrative. It is rather difficult to appreciate engineering difficulties. It is not a complimentary tribute to our Engineers that such difficulties should stand in our way in a matter of such supreme importance. Are we to believe that we are so bankrupt in engineering knowledge and skill that suitable steps are not taken because our Engineers do not know how to put the scheme into operation? Is it seriously suggested that our efforts have hitherto been paralysed by the conflicting opinions of our Engineers? My Lord, I, for one, have greater faith in the Engineers than the explanations of the Hon'ble Mr. Green seem to suggest. As regards the administrative difficulties we are quite in the dark as to what they really are. There are no doubt several parties concerned e.g., His Highness the Raja of Hill Tipperah, the proprietor of Gangamondal and Paitkura Estates and the Assam-Bengal Railway Company. Their interests are no doubt conflicting, but the word of the Government is law unto all. The popular impression is that the third difficulty mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Green, viz., the financial difficulty is the real and only difficulty. He no doubt says that the reasons for not attempting the scheme of escapes are only partly financial. But may I take the liberty of calling the attention of this Council to paragraph 24 of the Report of 1st June 1910, by Mr. C. A. White, the then Superintending Engineer where he says "The universal proposal has been to construct an escape with right embankments to relieve the pressure on the left embankment protecting Comilla. This proposal has so far not been carried out on account of the expense" and also to paragraph 37 of the same Report where Mr. White observed "The question of escape need not be considered because of the initial cost of the escapes and of the necessary channels." In 1884, Mr. D. B. Horn, the then Executive Engineer, remarked: "The only solution of the difficulty there is to escape the flood water above Comilla so as to reduce the flood level in the lower reach of the river to the limit of safety." There is no question of the practicability of constructing the escape, it is simply a matter of cost. As I suggested in one of my interpellations at the last meeting of the Council, the estimated damage inflicted by the flood in a single year is much greater than the cost of the most expensive scheme yet suggested. My suggestion has not been repudiated by the Government. It is only said euphemistically that no expert opinion exactly to the effect has been received by the Government. It is, however, a fact that in a note dated 6th November, 1885, Mr. J C. Vertannes, the then Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, estimated that the expenses would cost roughly one to two lakhs of rupees. Was it fair to the raiyats to sacrifice crops of lakhs and lakhs only to put off a scheme which would cost no more than one or two lakhs? Economy is undeniably a great virtue, but pushed too far, it degenerates into a vice and becomes more culpable than reckless extravagance. "Penny-wise and pound foolish" is a principle which should be discarded not only by individuals but also by the Government. The expert opinion is that the town of Comilla is always in danger and the town may be inundated any time during the rainy season. The result of such inundation is too dreadful to imagine. If the Govenment were unable or unwilling to bear the cost even then there should not have been any financial difficulty. There are so many parties all equally and vitally interested in a radical cure of the evil, and each one of them quite capable of contributing towards the costs. Even the raiyats would be willing to contribute if only we could decently ask them to do so. The divided burden would fall lightly upon them all. The financial difficulty is, therefore, more fancied than real. The fact, My Lord, is that we have not yet approached the matter with that earnestness and enthusiasm which the importance of the matter deserves

Resolution.

[Mr. A. Rasul; Mr. Beatson Bell.]

and which our duty towards the agricultural population demands. Nadi, like Nari and Nakhi of the Sanskrit proverb may be difficult to meddle with, but after all we have got to tackle the problem. The "wait and see" policy cannot be followed ad infinitum. We cannot wait till Doomsday. The Government may not be expected to proceed at break-neck pace. But surely the Agent of the Assam-Bengal Railway, not a very irresponsible person and no mean judge in the question, was perfectly justified in urging in 1910 that some definite policy should be decided upon as soon as possible and in re-iterating in 1912 his indictment against the authorities. In 1912 he complained and complained very justly of the complete want of any definite scheme for controlling the river Gumti, and the continued absence of any decision in the matter. If, in view of this laissez-faire policy of the Government, my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Fazl-ul-Haq were to entertain the Council with the story of the bullock and the oil pressing machine, I do not think anybody has any right to call him an extremist.

I am not, and do not pretend to be, a specialist or expert. I am not here to express any opinion about the merits or demerits of any particular scheme; I do not recommend any particular scheme in preference to any other. I have advisedly framed my resolution in such a way that it does not bind Your Excellency's Government to any specific scheme. But, My Lord, I have been specially asked and commissioned by people high and low, official and non-official, agricultural and non-agricultural, to bring to the notice of Your Excellency's Government the utter helplessness of the people and their earnest prayer that suitable and effective protective measures may be undertaken before the next rainy season. It is my most sacred duty and proud privilege to convey the people's message to Your Excellency and I have done it. The matter ends here so far as I am concerned. It is now for Your Excellency's Government to send a reply to that message for which the people are waiting with the greatest suspense. With these words, My Lord, I commend this Resolution for the acceptance of Your Excellency's Government."

The Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL said:—

"My Lord. I have great pleasure in supporting this Resolution and I endorse every word that my Hon'ble friend has said. My Lord, what he has said about public attention not being drawn to questions affecting Eastern Bengal, especially the districts of the Chittagong Division, I regret to say is a fact; and, as a matter of fact, questions affecting the districts of the Chittagong Division do not find much space in the public press of Calcutta, and I am very glad that my Hon'ble friend has drawn the attention of Government to this matter. This is a matter about which I can speak from personal experience. I happen to be an inhabitant of the district and I have seen with my own eyes the devastation made by floods and the distress caused by the floods. Therefore, I do not want to detain the Council, but I appeal to the Government that immediate steps be taken to prevent the distress and the damage caused to the area referred to in the Resolution. With these few words, I beg to support the Resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said:—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble mover has apparently been studying a book called "Bartaman Rana-niti" or some other work on the science of modern warfare before launching this attack upon us. He has made an intense preliminary preparation by heavy artillery. At the last meeting of the Council he asked Government no fewer than 53 questions on the subject of this embankment; to all of which we replied. To-day, he has followed up his preliminary preparation by launching his attack. He need hardly have taken so much trouble for we are prepared to meet him, if not with the sign of 'hands up' at least with the cry of Kamarad. In other words, we are quite prepared to accept this Resolution ; but in so doing, I must make the position clear. It is practically the same position as that of the rivers in the Burdwan Division and elsewhere, about which I have so often talked to the House. The Gumti river rises in the Indian State of Hill Tipperah and flows through British India into the Megna river. At some remote period, as the Hon'ble Member has pointed out, the Gumti was embanked. Now these embankments, as we now know from the lessons of modern engineering, were an entire mistake, and they have done more harm than good ; but it must be remembered that it was not the British Government who put up these embankments, nor up to now have they been declared as public embankments under the Act. We admit that they have done a lot of harm. They have unfortunately burst on frequent occasions and caused injury to the crops, but they are private embankments put up and maintained by private persons. I cannot, as Financial Member, altogether accept the proposition that because these embankments have done harm to the extent of 2 or 3 or 10 lakhs of rupees, therefore it is the duty of Government to take 2 or 3 or 10 lakhs from the tax-payers of other parts of the Province in order to make good the loss. In fact, I hardly think that my Hon'ble friend puts forward such a proposition. But although these embankments are private embankments, Government in the past have done what they could. We proposed long ago, about 1876 or 1877, to have these embankments declared as public embankments. Had that been done, Government would long ago have assumed direct responsibility. But His Highness, the then Raja of Hill Tipperah, considered that it would be more or less a slur upon him if these ancient embankments were taken out of his management and handed over to the management of the British Government. Negotiations took place and it was finally decided that we should respect the Raja's feelings and should leave the embankments in his charge. An agreement, of which I have a copy before me, was, therefore, drawn up in the year 1878 by which the Raja agreed to maintain the management of his embankments, but at the same time undertook that each year he would carry out such repairs as should be intimated to him in requisitions from the Collector or the Public Works Department. Year by year we have issued these requisitions to the Raja, and year by year he has, to the best of his ability, sometimes with considerable difficulty, carried out the requisitions. The annual cost to His Highness in recent years has varied from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 19,000. Lower down the embankments belong not to the Raja, but to other private zemindars. Here there is no agreement but otherwise the legal position is the same. We now propose to address the present Raja and to ascertain whether he is willing to have a modification of the agreement so that in future Government may undertake direct responsibility for the embankments. I have every hope that my friend, His Highness the Raja of Hill Tipperah, will come to an amicable arrangement with Government, which will be satisfactory alike to Government and to those who live on the banks of the river. I shall take early steps to enter into correspondence with His Highness.

Resolution.

[Mr. Beatson Bell.]

As the Hon'ble Mover has pointed out, the soundest way of dealing with this problem would have been to make a catchment basin in the upper reaches of the river. He has alluded to the administrative difficulties, but he professes to think that they are imaginary. Well, the plain fact is that the only possible place for a basin, as far as we can ascertain, is not in British India, but in the territory of His Highness. He has very natural objections to converting his rice fields into a lake ; he has also very natural objections to the construction of a weir which would obstruct the passage of his forest produce which now floats down the river. The House will readily see that those very reasonable objections, as also the extisence of the agreement of 1878, constitute administrative difficulties which are very far from imaginary. However, His Highness is well known as an enlightened Indian Prince, and I am confident that in friendly conference we shall yet solve all the difficulties. I am sure he will meet us half-way and will do all he can to secure a lasting benefit not only for the inhabitants of Hill Tipperah, but also for his tenants in British India. This is the action that we are going to take, and we trust that it will bear good fruit. With these few words, I say on behalf of Government that we do not oppose, but welcome, this Resolution."

Resolution.

[Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.]

The motion was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

The Hon'ble MR. H. R. A. IRWIN moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to inquire into the question of the Kurseong water-supply, with a view to abolishing the existing dual control of the catchment area and vesting such control solely in the Municipal Commissioners.

He said :—

"My Lord, I have been requested by the Commissioners of the Kurseong Municipality, of whom I have the honour of being one, to bring the matter of the Kurseong water-supply to the notice of Your Excellency's Government.

Although this question is one which very materially affects the residents of Kurseong, it may not appear on the face of it to be of sufficient importance to engage the time and attention of this Council, I think, however, a little reflection will show that such is not the case.

In the first place although Kurseong, in itself, is only one of the smaller towns of the Province, it acquires an importance, to which its size would not otherwise entitle it, from two circumstances :—

(a) Its geographical position right athwart the main thoroughfare between Darjeeling and the plains,

(b) As an important centre of education, there being no less than four large schools for Europeans and Anglo-Indians, two of which are important Government schools, to which children come from all parts of India and Burma, besides several schools for Indians of different races and creeds.

Therefore, anything seriously affecting the sanitary conditions of Kurseong is likely to affect the whole Province or even further afield in a greater or less degree, an epidemic breaking out there, being liable to be disseminated by travellers far and wide.

Moreover, the circumstances of the control of the water-supply in Kurseong, are very probably similar in other towns, and so this may prove to be in the nature of a test case for other Municipalities as well.

The vital importance of a pure water-supply is a matter which is, I am aware, fully recognized by Your Excellency's Government, as was brought out at a discussion inaugurated in a resolution proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter at one of the recent Council meetings last year.

Resolution.

[Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.]

I make no apology, therefore, for taking up the time of the Council in considering this Resolution. The correspondence relating to this case, dating back as it does to 1905, is most voluminous and it is, therefore, impossible to go into it in detail here. but briefly stated, the facts of the case are as follows :—

The Catchment Area forms a part of what is known as the Mahalderam Forest belonging to the Forest Department, and is situated some four or five miles from Kurseong.

In June 1905 the Sanitary Commissioner after inspecting the water-supply, wrote as follows :—

"I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that this should be the sole supply of Kurseong. Some three or four square miles of Forest farming should be fenced off, to prevent contamination of the water, and the Kurseong Municipality should ask Government to give them the prescriptive right to these springs."

As a matter of fact, the area for which the Municipality are asking very little exceeds one square mile instead of the three or four recommended. The Forest Department have very strongly objected to handing over the "prescriptive rights" of this area to the Municipality, principally on the grounds of the scarcity of fuel in the vicinity of Kurseong and the necessity for preserving the forest, but I would strongly urge that a pure water-supply is of far more importance to the town than a scarcity of wood fuel for which substitutes can be found.

The Forest Department, moreover, claimed the right-of-way over the main forest road running right through the centre of the catchment area, and I would ask how is it possible to prevent pollution of the water-supply, if such a thoroughfare is permitted.

However, the dispute between the Municipality and the Forest Department led to a sort of dual control being established, and it is against this duality that I am now here to protest.

The result of this dual control has been constant friction and correspondence, the Forest Officer, not unnaturally, taking the part of his employees against the Municipality, in any disputes that have arisen. The consequence has been that complaints by the Municipal Overseer of contamination of the water-supply have remained unremedied for considerable periods, and the residents of the town have been laid open to the risk of a serious epidemic breaking out, whilst the question of the complaint is being fought out between the respective controllers of the springs.

I may here say, that the Commissioners of the Municipality, taking it for granted that no opposition to their control would be raised. went to very great expense to fence in and protect the springs ; this is now being nullified by the actions of the Forest Department. Moreover, owing to constant pollution the expense has been greatly increased, an enhanced water-rate having been levied on the rate-payers, for the installation of filters, which was not anticipated if the Commissioners had been allowed full control for purposes of protection.

As an instance of the danger of the dual control, I would refer Your Excellency's Government to an example in Darjeeling itself, where somewhat similar conditions, but with an important exception, prevail.

In May 1913, the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, reporting on the Darjeeling Water-Supply, owing to the Forest Department failing to carry out the conditions laid down, said that :—

"The water-supply for a considerable time was absolutely unsafe, and had it not been for a lake, which contained very pure water, the possibilities of a serious outbreak in Darjeeling were extremely good."

Resolution.

[Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.]

As regards Kurseong, the important exception, I have referred to, is that there is no lake there and the residents in a similar case would have been forced to use "the absolutely unsafe water" with the risk of "the serious outbreak."

On May 20th, 1913, the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, again wrote "he refused as Sanitary Commissioner to accept any responsibility for the quality of the drinking water, or its results on the inhabitants as long as the Forest Department is permitted to carry on any work in the Catchment Area."

On September 10th, 1913, the Civil Medical Officer, Kurseong, protested against the dual control system.

In a letter dated October 22nd, 1913, the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, wrote to the Chairman, Kurseong Municipality, that, in spite of very strict rules enforced in the Darjeeling Catchment Area, the Forest Department had neglected to comply with them, and that he considered it absolutely essential that the management of the Catchment Area should rest with the Municipality, and that everybody including Forest Officers' servants should be excluded from it.

On May 6th, 1914, the Deputy Conservator of Forests, Kurseong, wrote to the Conservator of Forests, Darjeeling, strongly protesting against closing the Forest Road through the Catchment Area; again I would ask how is the water-supply to be kept free from contamination with a road open to all Forest employees running through it.

On June 10th, 1914, the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, reported that the analysis of the water showed it to be "undesirably polluted."

In 1914, Colonel Clemesha, Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, was on leave, and a Conference was held in Darjeeling on June 18th, when Major Fry, I.M.S., acted for him, and at which were present the Deputy Commissioner, Darjeeling, the Chairman of the Kurseong Municipality, the Conservator of Forests, Bengal, the Divisional Forest Officer, Kurseong, and the Sanitary Engineer, Bengal. The control of the Kurseong Catchment Area which had previously been vested in the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and the Deputy Commissioner, Darjeeling, was then transferred to the Subdivisional Officer, Chairman of the Kurseong Municipality, and to the Forest Officer, Kurseong.

On his return, Col. Clemesha, Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, wrote on February 2nd, 1915, strongly objecting to the above arrangement on the ground that the officers in question not being experts, were not competent to give an opinion on the subject of a pure water-supply.

This contention was borne out by the fact that, under this joint control, the Chowkidar at the Catchment Area was permitted to dip water out of the spring in an old tin, daily, for the supply of water to the Forest Ranger, a most obviously insanitary proceeding on the face of it.

On May 8th, 1916, the Chairman of the Kurseong Municipality wrote to the then Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, claiming complete control of the Catchment Area by the Municipality.

During 1916, the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, caused frequent analysis to be made, and the following are some of his remarks on the same :—

May, 1916.—"Water had been exposed to very recent and possible dangerous pollution, due probably to an improperly controlled Catchment Area."

Resolution.

[Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda.]

June.—" Evidence of heavy recent pollution, probably the Catchment Area has been badly polluted."

July.—" Evidence of recent pollution."

August.—" Gross recent pollution."

The above, my Lord, is I think, very ample evidence that the dual control has failed and should be abolished, and, moreover, that the Catchment Area should entirely be closed to any one but Municipal servants in the discharge of their duties. Who, I ask, is and should be responsible for the health and sanitation of a town ? The obvious answer must be, the Municipal Commissioners. Is it not then anomalous that they should not have the sole control of the water-supply, one of the factors, if not the chief factor, of the same ?

I maintain that it is impossible to hold the Municipal Commissioners responsible, unless the full and sole control is vested in them.

One word more, my Lord, and I have done. I believe I may be met by the reply that according to the Bengal Municipal Act, it is impossible for the Municipality to obtain the control asked for. Section 9, clause (c) says —" the Local Government may.....include within a Municipality any local area contiguous to the same."

The Catchment Area in question is not " contiguous " to the Kurseong Municipality, and, I presume, the inference from the wording of the section I have quoted is that the control of land not " contiguous " to a Municipality cannot be made over to the Commissioners. There is, however, another section, viz., section 35, relating to the acquisition of land. Paragraph 2 says " Land already the property of Government cannot be the subject of acquisition by Government. If a Municipality requires the use of Government land, it must apply to Government for the transfer of the same."

I am told that under this section also the Municipality cannot obtain control of the land in question ; why this should be I cannot understand, as to an ordinary person the wording seems clear, that the transfer can be made by permission of Government. But, my Lord, if such contention holds good, I maintain that it is a defect in the Act, which should be amended.

Surely in England such a law cannot exist. Most of the large towns obtain their water-supply from Catchment Areas many miles distant, and surely the control of the same is vested in the Municipality ? Why then should the case be different here, where a pure water-supply is of such great importance ? If the law is such that the control asked for cannot be granted, I would respectfully suggest that Your Excellency's legal advisers should frame an amendment to the Act to meet the case, as Kurseong is certainly not the only Municipality which would benefit by it.

For fuller details of the case, I would refer Your Excellency's adviser to the reports and recommendations of the various Sanitary Commissioners and Civil Medical Officers from time to time, commencing from the year 1905.

In conclusion, my Lord, I trust that I have made out a clear case on behalf of the Commissioners and rate-payers of the Municipality of Kurseong, and that it may receive the favourable consideration of Government."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

" My Lord, without expressing any opinion on the merits of the Resolution, I may say that we are quite prepared to make an inquiry, such as my Hon'ble friend desires, but we do not think it desirable that this inquiry should in any way be prejudiced, and therefore we should like the following words to be deleted from the Resolution—

Resolution.

[Mr. Irwin ; His Excellency.]

> " with a view to abolishing the existing dual control of the Catchment Area and vesting such control solely in the Municipal Commissioners."

We want to enter into the inquiry with an open mind, and I would suggest to my Hon'ble friend that if he puts the Resolution in the following form, I shall accept it :—

"This Council recomends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to inquire into the question whether the existing system of dual control of the Kurseong Water-Supply Catchment Area should be discontinued and the control vested solely in the Municipal Commissioners."

The Hon'ble Mr. IRWIN said :—

"I am quite prepared to accept the amendment of the Hon'ble Member. All I would ask is that the result of the inquiry be laid on the table."

The Resolution was then put in the following form and agreed to :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to inquire into the question whether the existing system of dual control of the Kurseong Water-Supply Catchment Area should be discontinued and the control vested solely in the Municipal Commissioners."

ADJOURNMENT.

HIS EXCELLENCY—

The Council is adjourned to 11 A.M. on Monday, the 5th March, 1917, at Government House, Calcutta.

This sentence was confirmed by the Sessions Judge, Alipore, in respect of the period, but the bond was reduced to Rs. 250, with four sureties of Rs. 250 each, in default three years' rigorous imprisonment.			Narendra Nath Bhattacharji first came to the notice of the police in connection with the police investigations made into several cases of bomb outrages on running trains on the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the year 1909. From the enquiries then made it appeared that he was a leader of the gang to whom the outrages were attributed. He was, besides, found to be a man of dangerous and desperate character and rather a terror to the men of the locality. He was for these reasons prosecuted under section 110, Criminal Procedure Code, and convicted. He is now in jail, as he could not furnish proper sureties.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 5th September, 1916, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

Act No. X of 1916.

An Act to prohibit or control trading by hostile foreigners and hostile firms and for other purposes.

Whereas it is expedient to take powers further to prohibit or control trading by hostile foreigners and hostile firms and for other purposes ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Enemy Trading Act, 1916.

(2) It shall remain in force during the continuance of the present war, and for a period of six months thereafter.

Definitions.

2. In this Act—

"Company" means any company, firm or association, or body of individuals whether incorporated or not;

"hostile foreigner" means a subject of a State for the time being at war with His Majesty, and includes any company constituted according to the laws of such State, and the ruler or Government of any such State ; and

"hostile firm" means any of the following, namely :—

(b) any company of which any member or officer is a hostile foreigner, or of which a hostile foreigner was a member or officer on the 3rd day of August, 1914, and which has or has had since that date an office, agency or place of business in British India ;

(c) any person, or company who or which has, at any time since the 3rd day of August, 1914, carried on business in British India, and whose business is, or was, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, either by reason of its nature or of the persons who carry or carried it on, or for any other cause whatsoever, carried on either under the control whether direct or indirect of any hostile foreigner, or carried on wholly or mainly for the benefit of hostile foreigners generally, or any class of hostile foreigners or any individual hostile foreigner.

Power to appoint Inspectors.

3. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, appoint Inspectors for the purpose of determining whether any business is or was carried on by a hostile firm within the meaning of this Act.

(2) The Inspector may summon before him any person whom he believes to be capable of giving information concerning the trade, dealings, affairs or property of such business, and of the antecedents and nationality of those by whom it is or was carried on or controlled.

(3) The Inspector may examine such person on oath concerning the same, and may reduce his answers to writing, and require him to sign them.

(4) The Inspector may require such person to produce any documents in his custody or power in any way relating to such business or to the persons by whom it is or was carried on or controlled.

(5) If any person so summoned refuses to come before the Inspector at the time appointed, the Inspector may cause him to be apprehended and brought before him for examination.

(6) If any person refuses to answer any question or to produce any document, which under this section the Inspector is empowered to ask or require production of, such person shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees or with both.

Power to prohibit or restrict, or wind up hostile firms.

4. (1) The Governor General in Council may make an order either—

(a) prohibiting any hostile firm from carrying on business, except for the purposes and subject to the conditions, if any, specified in the order ; or

(b) requiring the business of such firm to be wound up ; and may in any case, where he has made an order prohibiting or limiting the carrying on of the business, at any time, if he thinks it expedient, substitute for that order an order requiring the business to be wound up.

(2) Every order made under sub-section (1) shall be published by notification in the Gazette of India.

(3) If any person contravenes the provisions of any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, and shall also be liable to fine.

(4) An order made under this section shall continue in force, notwithstanding the termination of the present war, until determined by order of the Governor General in Council.

Winding up order

5. (1) Where the Governor General in Council makes an order under this Act requiring a business to be wound up, the order shall, on notification in the Gazette of India, have effect as if it were a winding up order made by a Court under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, and the provisions of that Act relating to winding up by the Court and the rules made thereunder subject to such exceptions, restrictions, extensions, modifications and adaptations as the Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, prescribe, or such other rules as may be prescribed by him, shall apply to the winding up of the business :

VII of 1913.

Provided that, for the purposes of any winding up order under this Act, all powers exercisable by the Court under the said Indian Companies Act shall be exercisable by the Governor General in Council, or by such other authority as he may appoint either generally or specially in that behalf :

VII of 1913.

Provided also that the assets of the business and any money resulting from the realization of any part thereof shall be dealt with in accordance with such rules as the Governor General in Council may make in that behalf.

(2) Where an order has been made under this Act directing the winding up of the business of a hostile firm, the hostile firm shall not, nor shall any other person, commence or initiate, whilst that order remains in force, any other proceedings of a like nature or calculated in any way to interfere with the carrying out of such order.

Contracts or transfers against the public interest.

6. (1) Where it appears to the Governor General in Council that a contract entered into before or during the war, or a transfer of property, moveable or immoveable, made during the war, with or by a hostile foreigner or a hostile firm is injurious to the public interest, or was made with the object of evading any provision of the law, the Governor General in Council may by order cancel or determine such contract, either unconditionally or upon such conditions as he thinks fit, or declare such transfer to be void either in whole or in part, or may impose such conditions on the transferee as he thinks fit.

(2) The powers conferred by sub-section (1) in respect of transfers of property shall be exercisable also in respect of any subsequent transfer or sub-transfer which, in the opinion of the Governor General, is injurious to the public interest or was made with the object of evading the law.

(3) On the making of an order under this section declaring any transfer or subsequent transfer or sub-transfer to be void, all property, the transfer of which is declared void by such order, shall, with effect from the date of the order, be deemed to be re-vested in the original transferor, or, if a winding up order has been made under section 4 (1) (b), in the liquidator.

Power of the Governor General in Council to vest property in Custodian under the Enemy Trading Act, 1915.

7. (1) The Governor General in Council, in any case where it appears to him to be expedient to do so, may by order vest in any Custodian appointed under the Enemy Trading Act, 1915, any property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to, or deemed to be vested in, or managed or held whether in trust or otherwise, for, or on behalf of, a hostile foreigner, a hostile firm, or any person or company residing in, or carrying on business in the dominions of, a State at war with His Majesty, or the right to transfer that property, and may by any such order or any subsequent order confer on the Custodian such powers of selling, managing and otherwise dealing with the property as to the Governor General in Council may seem proper.

XIV of 1915.

(2) A vesting order under this section shall, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, be sufficient to vest in the Custodian any property or the right to transfer any property as provided by the order without the necessity of any further document.

(3) Where, in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by the Governor General in Council, the Custodian proposes to sell any shares or stock forming part of the capital of any company or any securities issued by the company in respect of which a vesting order under this Act has been made, the company may, with the consent of the Governor General in Council, purchase the shares, stock or securities, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any law or in any regulation of the company, and any shares, stock or securities so purchased may, from time to time, be re-issued by the company.

(4) The transfer by the Custodian of any property shall be conclusive evidence in favour of the transferee and of the Custodian that the requirements of this section have been complied with.

(5) All property vested in the Custodian under this section and the proceeds of the sale of, or money arising from, any such property, shall be dealt with by him in accordance with such directions as he may receive from the Governor General in Council; and no such property or money shall be liable to be attached or otherwise taken in execution.

Validity of vesting orders.

8. Where a vesting order has been made under this Act as respects any property belonging to, or held or managed for, or on behalf of, a person who appeared to the Governor General in Council to be a person to whom the provisions of section 7 were applicable, the order shall not, nor shall any proceedings thereunder or in consequence thereof be invalidated or affected by reason only of such person having, prior to the date of the order, died or ceased to be a person to whom the said provisions were applicable, or subsequently dying or ceasing to be such a person or by reason of its being subsequently ascertained that he was not such a person, as the case may be.

Registration of transfer without production of certificates, etc.

9. Where the Custodian executes a transfer of any shares, stock or securities which he is empowered to transfer by a vesting order made under this Act, the company in whose books the shares, stock or securities are registered shall, upon the receipt of the transfer so executed by the Custodian, and upon being required by him so to do, register the shares, stock or securities in the name of the Custodian or other transferee, notwithstanding any regulation or stipulation of the company, and notwithstanding that the Custodian is not in possession of the certificate, scrip or other document of title relating to the shares, stock or securities transferred; but such registration shall be without prejudice to any lien or charge in favour of the company or to any other lien or charge of which the Custodian has express notice.

Power to make rules.

10 (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for all or any of the following purposes, namely :—

(a) providing for the distribution or disposal of any assets, or any money resulting from the realization of any part thereof, of any business in respect of which a winding up order has been made under this Act;

(b) prescribing that hostile foreigners and hostile firms or any class of hostile foreigners or hostile firms shall, when required by the Custodian, furnish to him such particulars as he may require of all or any moveable or immoveable property in their possession, or under their control whether direct or indirect;

(c) requiring persons in British India to furnish to the Custodian such particulars as he may require of all or any class of debts or other property due by them to any person to whom the provisions of section 7 are or may be applicable;

(d) prescribing the remuneration payable to the Custodian in respect of his duties under this Act, the fund from which it shall be paid, and the method of collecting the same; and

(e) generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In making any rule under this section, the Governor General in Council may direct that a breach of it shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to a term not exceeding six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Certain licenses under the Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order to be deemed to be orders issued under section 4 (1) (a).

11. Every license for the time being in force granted under the Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order permitting the licensee to trade or carry on business subject to conditions or restrictions shall be deemed to be an order made under section 4 (1) (a), and this Act shall have effect accordingly.

Power to deal with non-trading companies.

12. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the powers conferred by section 7 in regard to the property, moveable or immoveable, of the persons referred to therein shall extend to the property, moveable or immoveable, in British India, of any company specified in such notification of which any member is a hostile foreigner, or of which a hostile foreigner was a member or officer on the 3rd day of August, 1914, notwithstanding that such company is not a company trading in British India.

(2) On the publication of a notification under sub-section (1), the company shall be deemed to be a person referred to in section 7 of this Act, and this Act shall have effect accordingly.

Validation of past action.

13. Any act done after the 3rd day of August, 1914, by, or under the orders of, any officer of Government in respect of the property, moveable or immoveable, of any hostile foreigner or hostile firm which, if this Act had been in force, could have been validly done in the exercise of the powers conferred thereby, or which could have been conferred thereunder, is hereby validated.

Repeal of Ordinance V of 1916.

14. The Enemy Trading Ordinance, 1916, V of 1916. is hereby repealed.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under sugarcane in Bengal represents some 9·5 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the Season.—Since the publication of the preliminary forecast in July weather conditions have been generally unfavourable. Excessive rainfall and floods caused considerable damage to the crop, especially on the low-lying tracts of the Eastern Bengal districts and the cyclonic storm in September has reduced the outturn of the crop in some of the western districts.

Acreage.—The area planted with sugarcane this year is estimated at 220,200 against 231,000 acres (now revised) last year and 233,500 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report it will be seen that seven districts report a crop of between 90 and 100 per cent., eight districts between 80 and 85 per cent., and eleven between 60 and 78 per cent. The districts of the Chittagong Hill Tracts report a crop as low as 50 per cent. of the normal.

According to estimates of District Officers, the total outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 80 per cent. of the normal against 85 per cent. last year.

Taking 35½ maunds as the normal rate of cane-gur per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 4,594,500 cwts. against 5,121,100 cwts. last year (now revised), and 5,176,600 cwts. as reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained this year from date palm juice is estimated at 1,994,600 cwts. and from palmyra palm juice 1,400 cwts. against 1,983,800 cwts and 1,400 cwts. respectively, last year. The total quantity of gur in the Province from all sources this year is thus returned at 6,590,500 cwts. against 7,106,300 cwts. (revised) last year and 7,161,800 cwts. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES TO REGULATE THE USE OF MOTOR VEHICLES IN THE BENGAL PRESIDENCY OTHER THAN IN CALCUTTA (INCLUDING SUBURBS) AND HOWRAH.

PART I.—Preliminary.

1. In these rules—

Definitions.

(1) "motor-car" includes all motor vehicles other than motor-cycles, road-rollers and vehicles which run on rails;

(2) "heavy motor-car" means a motor-car exceeding two tons in weight when unladen;

(3) "light motor-car" means a motor-car not exceeding two tons in weight when unladen;

(4) "motor-cycle" means a motor vehicle running on not more than three wheels, and weighing not more than three hundredweights;

(5) "trailer" means a vehicle drawn by a heavy motor-car;

(6) "axle-weight" means, in relation to an axle of a heavy motor-car or of a trailer, the aggregate weight transmitted to the surface of the road or other base whereon the heavy motor-car or trailer moves or rests by the several wheels attached to that axle when the car or trailer is laden;

(7) "registered axle-weight" means the axle-weight of the axle of a heavy motor-car as registered by the Commissioner in pursuance of the rules contained in Part III of these rules;

(8) the expression "weight," when used in relation to a heavy motor-car or a trailer, means—

(a) when the car or trailer is unladen, the weight of the vehicle, including all parts, equipments, stores, fuel, water and accumulators which are necessary for, or are ordinarily used with, the car or trailer when working: Provided that, where alternative parts or bodies are used, the heaviest shall be taken for the purpose of calculating the weight; and

(b) when the car or trailer is laden, its weight, when unladen, plus its full lawful load, including the weight of the driver;

(9) the expression "width," when used in relation to the tyre of a wheel of a heavy motor-car, means the distance measured horizontally and in a straight line across the rim of the wheel and between the two points in the outer surface of tyre which are farthest apart;

(11) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Police for Calcutta.

PART II.—All motor vehicles.

2. (1) No person shall drive, or have charge of, or use or cause or permit to be used, any motor vehicle, unless it is registered by the Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of these rules in a register kept in a form prescribed by him:

Registration.

Provided that, for the purposes of these rules,—

(a) every motor vehicle which is in use on the 1st April 1917 and which was registered under the rules previously in force under the Bengal Motor-car and Cycle Act, 1903, or under any rules in force in Calcutta and Howrah, or under any rules in force in any province other than Bengal and made under any local Act; and

(b) every motor vehicle registered in any part of British India other than Bengal under rules framed under the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914, shall be deemed to have been registered under these rules.

(2) Every application for registration of a motor vehicle under sub-rule (1) of this rule shall be in such form and shall contain such particulars as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe and shall be made to the Magistrate of the district in which the car is to be used.

(3) The fee for registration shall be Rs. 32 for a heavy motor-car, Rs. 16 for a light motor-car and Rs. 4 for a motor-cycle.

Compliance with rules a condition precedent to registration.

3. The Commissioner shall not register any motor vehicle unless he is satisfied on the report of the District Magistrate that the requirements of these rules in respect thereof have been duly complied with.

4. During a period of one month from the 1st April 1917 any failure to comply with these rules, so far as they relate to the construction or use of heavy motor-cars or trailers, shall not be deemed to be a breach or contravention of the rules, if the failure occurs solely in relation to a car registered before, or to a trailer which is in use on, the 1st April 1917.

Temporary cancellation of registration.

5. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, if the Commissioner, at any time after a motor vehicle has been registered, has reason to believe that it has ceased in any respect to conform to these rules, or that it is not maintained in such a condition as to be free from danger to the public, he may, after notice to the owner, direct that the registration be cancelled until the defects are remedied to his satisfaction.

Report of change of address by registered owner.

6. Whenever the registered owner of a motor vehicle changes his address, he must report the new address to the Commissioner.

7. Every transfer of ownership and every transfer of possession, whether temporary or otherwise, of a motor vehicle, registered under these rules, shall forthwith be reported to the Commissioner by the registered owner and by the transferee.

Marking and lettering.

8. (1) The Commissioner shall assign a distinguishing number to every motor vehicle registered under these rules and shall record the name and address of the owner:

Provided that a general number may, on payment of an annual fee not exceeding Rs. 32, be assigned to all or any motor vehicle for the time being in the possession of any manufacturer thereof or dealer therein, to be used on any such vehicle when on trial after completion, or when on trial by an intending purchaser, or when being used, by a person licensed under rule 15, for the purpose of instructing any other person in the use of the vehicle, or when on hire.

(2) When a general number has been assigned under the proviso to sub-rule (1) of this rule, the manufacturer or dealer aforesaid shall also distinctively mark every vehicle covered by the general number by an additional letter or letters.

Bell or horn.

14. Every motor vehicle shall carry a horn or other instrument capable of giving audible and sufficient warning of the approach or position of the vehicle, and the driver shall sound such instrument whenever it may be necessary to do so:

Provided that the District Magistrate may interdict, after such examination and inquiry as is found necessary, the use in any municipal or suburban area of such types of horns, sirens, whistles or similar appliances on motor vehicles as are likely to constitute a public nuisance.

(2) There shall be payable for every license a fee of Rs. 10 in respect of a motor-car and Rs. 2 in respect of a motor-cycle. A fee of Rs. 2 shall be paid for each renewal of license, and the duplicates of licenses shall be charged for at the rate of annas eight per copy.

(3) In any case, if a person holding a license does not renew his license within one month of the expiration of its term, he may be called upon to pass a second test for driving and a fee of Rs. 2 shall be charged for such re-examination in addition to the renewal charge of Rs. 2 for the license.

Provided that, in the case of a heavy motor vehicle with resilient tyres carrying passengers, the maximum speed limit shall be 12 miles an hour.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this rule, no motor vehicle shall, in any municipal or suburban area, which is a busy industrial centre, be driven at a greater speed than 10 miles an hour. The Local Government may direct that sign-posts shall be erected by the Municipality or the District Board as the case may be, in a conspicuous place at the approach to all such centres to warn drivers of motor vehicles to reduce their speed to the prescribed limit.

17. No person shall cause or permit the emission of smoke or visible vapour from a motor vehicle in such quantity as to cause annoyance or danger to the public.

Use of heavy motor-car upon bridges.

34. (1) When any authority who is liable for the repair of a bridge affixes or sets up, in suitable and conspicuous positions on the bridge and on each approach to the bridge, notices stating that the bridge is insufficient to carry a heavy motor-car the registered axle-weight of any axle of which exceeds such weight as may be specified in such notices, the owner of any such car shall not cause or suffer the car to be driven, and the person driving or in charge of any such car shall not drive the car upon the bridge, except with the written consent of the said authority.

(a) require the person driving or in charge of the car to drive the car, or cause it to be driven, with or without the trailer, to a weighing machine, and

(b) cause the axle-weight for the time being of any such axle to be ascertained.

War Office,
1st December 1916.

The Secretary of State for War has received the following despatches from General Sir Archibald Murray, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief, Egyptian Expeditionary Force.

General Headquarters,
Egyptian Expeditionary Force.
1st October 1916.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit a report on the operations of the Force under my command from the 1st June to 30th September 1916.

1. On the eastern front, during the month of June, vigorous countermeasures, culminating in the successful attack on the enemy's aerodrome at El Arish, were undertaken to check the much increased activity of hostile aircraft. This operation was brilliantly carried out on the morning of the 18th June. The first British machine to arrive descended to 100 feet and attacked, blowing to pieces an aeroplane on the ground and its attendant personnel. A second machine on the ground was also put out of action by bombs. Heavy fire from rifles and anti-aircraft guns was now opened on the attackers, but the British pilots carried out their orders most gallantly. Altogether six out of the ten hangars were hit, and two, if not three, were burnt to the ground. A party of soldiers on the aerodrome was also successfully bombed, and at the close, one of the observing machines attacked the hangars with its machine gun from a height of 1,200 feet. During the action three of our machines were forced to descend; two were destroyed and one sank in the sea. Two of the pilots were rescued, and the third was taken prisoner.

On the eastern front there was comparatively little activity during the month of June, beyond the usual patrols and reconnaissances, which were actively carried out. A column of Australian Light Horse, with detachments of engineers and of Bikanir Camel Corps under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel T. J. Todd, D.S.O., successfully executed the task of draining the rock cisterns and pools in the Wadi Um Muksheib, some 40 miles S. E. of Ismailia, between 10th and 14th June. Some 5,000,000 gallons of water were disposed of in four days and nights of continuous effort, and the fact that every man and animal that left railhead on 10th June returned safely testifies to the efficiency of the staff arrangements. A column of yeomanry co-operated with this force and did very good work.

2. On 10th and 11th June, Bir Bayud, Bir El Mageibra and Bir El Jefeir were reconnoitred. Enemy stores and huts were destroyed at Hod El Bayud and at Hod El Dababie a hostile patrol was successfully disposed of. On 15th June Bir El Abd was reconnoitred, and between 21st and 23rd June a reconnaissance of the Hod El Ge'eila, Hod Um El Dhaunnin and Hod El Mushalfat area was carried out by an Australian Light Horse Brigade. During the latter operation one of our aeroplanes was reported missing, and the reconnoitring troops were ordered to find it. This they successfully accomplished, after considerable prolonged exertion in trying weather conditions, and the damaged engine and the machine gun were brought in on the 23rd. Bir El Abd and Mageibra were reconnoitred on 30th June and found to be clear of the enemy.

At the beginning of July a small reconnaissance was carried out from Abu Zeneima by detachments of the Sikh Pioneers and the Bikanir Camel Corps, under the command of Major W. J. Ottley. The column left Abu Zeneima on 11th July and returned on 14th July, having captured an Arab Sheikh and some other prisoners.

3. As regards the western front, during the month no important enemy movements took place. In the coastal section reconnaissances by aeroplane, motor and camel corps, to assure the safety of the Sollum post, were carried out, irrespective of frontier, and with the agreement of the Italian local military authorities, with whom a complete accord has been established by the interchange of visits between the respective commanders. Progress on the Baharia railway continued, though slower than was anticipated, and the defences of posts in the Kharga Oasis were completed. Aeroplane reconnaissance established the continued presence of an enemy force of some 1,800 rifles in the Dakhla Oasis. On 25th and 26th July a raid from Sollum was carried out by a detachment of light armoured cars, under the command of Captain C. G. Mangles, Hussars, in conjunction with some motor cars and personnel furnished by the Italian garrison of Bardia, supported by half a company Imperial Camel Corps, and by the Italian armed yacht "Misurata," ably commanded by Captain Como, Italian Navy. The objective was a party of some 100 Muhafzia, located near the mouth of the Wadi Sanal, in Italian territory, 40 miles west of Ras El Melh, whence they had been robbing the Bedouin under pretence of collecting taxes for the Senussi. A complete surprise was effected, but only about twenty-five Muhafzia were found in camp. These fled towards the sea, after a slight resistance, leaving six killed and three prisoners. Scattered groups on the seashore came under the gun fire of the "Misurata." The importance of this well-conducted operation lies in the proof which it gave to the Arabs of the close co-operation and good fellowship that existed between our Italian neighbours and ourselves.

4. More than half the month of July passed without any important occurrence on the eastern front. In the northern section mounted troops carried out frequent reconnaissances to the east, penetrating on 9th July as far as Salmana, but found the country clear of all but a few Bedouin. On 17th July, however, enemy aircraft were active over the Romani-Dueidar area, and on the 18th a patrol came in contact with a camel patrol of fifteen Turks, with whom shots were exchanged. The Turks retired rapidly eastwards. Up till this date there was no considerable body of Turkish troops further west than Bir El Mazar, some 18 miles east of Oghratina, where for some time there had been a camp of between 1,500 and 2,000.

The situation suddenly changed on 19th July, when an evening reconnaissance by the Royal Flying Corps revealed the fact that a large force of the enemy had moved westwards from El Arish and established itself on the line Bir El Abd-Bir Jameil-Bir Bayud. Their numbers were estimated to be between 8,000 and 9,000, of which from 3,000 to 4,000 were at Bir El Abd, and the remainder divided between the other two places. It was not immediately clear whether the enemy's intention was to repeat the raid of 23rd April on the Qatia district on a larger scale, or to make a more deliberate advance, but I at once decided, on receipt of this information, to reinforce the troops in this area.

Early on the morning of the 20th the cavalry reported that Oghratina was held by strong forces of the enemy, who were entrenching. This was confirmed by the Royal Flying Corps, who further reported that the pile of stores at Bir El Abd had increased in size, and that the troops reported on the previous evening at Bir Jameil and Bir El Bayud had moved. A further air reconnaissance, in the afternoon, revealed that this force had moved to Mageibra, where there were between 2,000 and 3,000 men, with bodies of between 500 and 600 moving on a line between that place and Oghratina. Instructions were issued that the enemy was to be allowed to become involved in an attack on our defences, if he would, and that any such intention was not to be hindered by a premature counter-attack. The cavalry were in touch with the enemy all day, capturing a few prisoners, from whose information it appeared that the force in front of us was the third Turkish Division, consisting of the 31st, 32nd, and 39th Regiments, with mountain guns, heavy artillery, and special machine gun companies; the artillery was manned by Turks, Germans and Austrians, and there were Germans with all the machine gun companies. Prisoners also stated that there were other echelons following behind these advanced troops at a distance of one day's march. This information was confirmed in all essentials by the completer knowledge subsequently obtained of the attacking force, except that prisoners all exaggerated the number of troops that was following behind them. The whole force consisted of the Turkish 3rd Division, with eight machine gun companies, officered and partly manned by Germans, mountain artillery, and some batteries of 4-inch and 6-inch howitzers and anti-aircraft guns, manned chiefly by Austrians, with a body of Arab camelry. It was commanded by Colonel Kress Von Kressenstein, a German officer in Turkish employ, and the German personnel of the machine gun units, heavy artillery, wireless sections, field hospital and supply section had been organised in Germany as a special formation for operations with the Turkish forces. The force was in fine physical condition and admirably equipped.

On the evening of the 20th demonstration with artillery against Oghratina disclosed the fact that the enemy were entrenching on a general line running south-east from Oghratina with their left flank thrown forward to Mageibra, which was strongly held. Bir El Abd was used by the enemy as an advanced base throughout the operations.

During the next few days there was no appreciable change in the situation. The enemy confined himself to closing up his troops and strengthening the position already occupied, pushing forward in one or two places and entrenching wherever he established himself. There were constant encounters between our cavalry patrols and the enemy's, but the latter handled his covering troops well and extended his right flank far enough northwards to prevent anything less than a very strong attack from interfering with his communications along the Bir El Abd-Oghratina road.

By the 24th the enemy had established a force, estimated at 5,000 men, in a series of entrenched positions extending from Hod En Negiliat through Oghratina to Hod El Masia, with supporting bodies of about 1,000 each at Bir Abu Afein and Bir El Abd behind his right flank. On his left Mageibra was entrenched with a series of strong redoubts and held by some 3,000 troops, with small connecting posts northward to Hod El Masia.

By 22nd July it was evident that the enemy had no intention of making an immediate raid upon the Qatia district, but was either contemplating a serious attack upon the canal defences further west or preparing to establish himself firmly in the Um Alsha district, so as to block our further advance towards El Arish, to protect his own communications between Syria and the Hedjaz, and to prevent us from denying to him the whole of the Qatia area—the only district within which he could collect and maintain any considerable force within striking distance of the Suez Canal. In either case, whether, on the first alternative, he was waiting for further échelons to arrive before attacking, or, on the second, he was preparing to establish himself permanently, there was only one course of action that commended itself to me—namely, to attack the enemy and inflict a decisive defeat upon him as soon as possible. To do this forthwith was impracticable since 15 miles of desert separated my main position from that of the enemy, and it would be absolutely necessary that any force destined to advance across this tract to an attack on a strong enemy position should be equipped with camel transport on a very complete scale. While I was compelled, therefore, to remain for the moment on the tactical defensive, I took immediate steps to put everything in train for the adoption of a vigorous offensive at the earliest possible moment. The General Officer in command in the locality was instructed to formulate his plan for the earliest possible assumption of the offensive, and to proceed with all speed with the mobilisation of his striking force on a pack basis with camel transport. I calculated that all arrangements would be completed during the first days of August, and this calculation was borne out by events. By 3rd August all the formations were ready to take the field. My intention was to attack the enemy in force about 13th August, the date of full moon, unless myself attacked earlier. Major-General Hon. H. H. Lawrence was placed in local command of the operations.

During this period of energetic preparation the mounted troops kept in constant touch with the enemy, harassing him in every possible way and making valuable reconnaissances; and the Royal Flying Corps, having concentrated all available machines and pilots in Egypt, on the eastern front, was able to make valuable reports upon the enemy's movements in rear of his advanced line.

On the night of the 27-28th the enemy pushed forward all along his front and occupied a line in advance of his former entrenched position, running from the eastern end of Sabkhet El Amya on the north, south-eastwards to Abu Daren on the south. On his right the advance was small, for his advanced troops, which at one time advanced to Hod Um Ugba, were driven back after a sharp skirmish by the Canterbury Mounted Rifles, the enemy sustaining heavy losses. The chief advance was made by his left flank, which swung up in a north-westerly direction from Mageibra to Abu Darem. It now seemed likely that the enemy meant to attack, but for the next few days he continued strengthening his new positions, while continual reinforcements were observed to be reaching him along the northern road. This movement of reinforcements ceased on 31st July, by which date the enemy appeared to have completed the concentration of troops in his front line. From 29th July onwards the Royal Flying Corps, whose rôle had hitherto been only one of observation passed to the offensive, and constantly harassed the enemy with bomb attacks. From the 30th onwards H. M. Monitors lying off Mahendia rendered most valuable assistance in shelling the enemy's camps and works, in which the Royal Flying Corps successfully co-operated. On 28th July I gave instructions for the formation of a mobile column, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel C. L. Smith, V. C., Imperial Camel Corps, to operate against the enemy's left flank and left rear in the neighbourhood of Mageibra and Bayud respectively. This mobile column proved itself invaluable in subsequent operations.

The Mahendia-Romani position consisted of a series of strong posts extending southwards from the sea to a point on the east of the Katib Gannit hill and thence curving backwards round the southern slope of that hill north-westwards towards Etmaler.

On 2nd August there were indications of a forward move on the part of the enemy, who made a strong reconnaissance towards Er Rabah-Qatia and Bir El Hamisah, but his advanced troops were driven in except on the north, by the Australian and New Zealand Mounted Troops after some sharp encounters. By the evening of the 2nd August his general position was but little altered. Even up to this time it was still uncertain whether the ultimate assumption of the offensive would come from our side or the enemy's but on the following day the enemy disclosed his intention of taking the initiative by making a general move forward and occupying a semi-circular line running from the immediate west of Hill 110, past the high ground north-west of Rabah over the high ground east and south-east of Qatia to the high ground north-west of Bir Hamisah. It then appeared certain that he would attack the Romani-Mahendia position, and it appeared to me extremely probable that, while holding us east of that position, he would throw his main attack against the Katib Gannit-Bir El Nuss line in a north-westerly direction, with the object of forcing back our entrenched line before we could interfere from the west and north-west. I warned General Lawrence of this possibility, which was confirmed by events.

5. On the night of the 3rd-4th August, owing to the proximity of the enemy at Qatia, the cavalry, in addition to leaving out the usual officers' patrols, put out a strong outpost line which extended from just south of Katib Gannit along the entrance to the gullies between the sand dunes up to and including Hod El Enna, thus preventing the enemy from penetrating unobserved into the waterless area of sand dunes south-west of Romani, into which I anticipated he would attempt to move. This outpost line, formed by two regiments, was attacked by the enemy in increasing strength from midnight onwards. Several attempts to force the line were repulsed, a bayonet charge on Mount Meredith, a high sand dune midway between Katib Gannit and Hod El Enna, being beaten off between 2 A.M. and 3 A.M. The continuous pressure of the enemy gradually forced back the outpost line, which by 4-20 A.M. was facing generally south along the dune called Wellington Ridge, between Mount Meredith and Katib Gannit Before long the enemy's threat to outflank our right made it necessary to retire slowly northwards towards the railway. It was evident by daylight that the enemy had committed his troops to a decisive attack, as he was pressing the line of fortified works from the east under cover of artillery fire from field guns and heavy howitzers at the same time as he was moving round the southern flank of the position with strong force, before which our cavalry, while stubbornly resisting, were slowly retiring.

The situation had developed in accordance with my anticipations, and it was certain that, once the force of the enemy's attack from the south was spent, a decisive and rapid counter-attack would place him in a position of great difficulty. General Lawrence issued orders for all available troops to be ready to operate against the enemy's southern flank in the direction of Mount Royston, a high sand dune about two miles south of Pelusium Station: a mounted brigade was directed to act vigorously from Dueidar towards Hod El Enna; another mounted brigade was ordered to send one regiment to Hod El Aras, and to be prepared to follow it up with the whole brigade, so as to co-operate with the first-mentioned mounted brigade. Finally, I issued orders to the Mobile Column, under Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, V. C., to commence operations against the enemy's left rear towards Mageibra and Bir Aweidiya, working wide of the flank of the last-named Mounted Brigade. This colum at once started for Hod El Bada, which it reached by the evening of the 4th.

During the forenoon the enemy made several attacks against the Romani-Mehemdia defences from the east, south and south-west. These were repulsed by the garrisons, composed of Scottish and Welsh infantry, with considerable loss, and in spite of heavy artillery fire from the enemy's heavy howitzers, which in one or two cases inflicted severe casualties on our troops, who behaved with admirable steadiness. The fire of these howitzers, however, was very effectively kept down by the guns of the monitors, with the co-operation of the Royal Flying Corps.

There was, unfortunately, more delay than had been anticipated in moving up the infantry reinforcements to Pelusium Station, so that during the morning of the 4th no infantry was available for an attack on the enemy's flank at Mount Royston. This caused the whole brunt of the fighting in this area to fall upon the cavalry, whose casualties had not been light, and whose right flank was unprotected. A squadron of cavalry from 7-15 A.M. onwards held off attacks from the south-east for three hours till a yeomanry regiment, which had come into action at 9-45, gained touch with it. The result of the somewhat rapid advance of the Turks from the south was that General Lawrence was obliged to divert the cavalry originally destined to operate against the enemy's rear to strengthen the line of resistance on the north. By 12-30 P.M. the enemy on our southern flank reached the furthest point of his advance—a line running from Bir Abu Diyuk, north of Mount Royston, along the southern slopes of Wellington Ridge, and thence bending round to the east and north facing the southernmost infantry post. Shortly after 1 P.M. New Zealand mounted troops, with some yeomanry, began to attack Mount Royston from the west. This attack was pressed slowly forward, and was accompanied, in spite of heavy fire from the enemy, by a general move forward of the cavalry. By 3-30 P.M. two battalions of the East Lancashire Regiment, closely followed by a third, were on the march southwards from Pelusium Station, and by 4 P.M. all the troops were ordered to press forward for the counter-attack and gain and hold the line Mount Royston-Wellington Ridge. By 6-30 P.M. Mount Royston, with about 500 prisoners, some machine guns, and a battery of mountain artillery were in our hands. At 6 P.M. an attack was made on Wellington Ridge by infantry, supported by the fire of our artillery. The ridge was strongly held, and, owing to darkness, the enemy remained in possession of part of it during the night. The result of the day's fighting was that we had repulsed a vigorous attack, capturing between 500 and 1,000 prisoners, retaken Mount Royston and part of Wellington Ridge, and were pressing back on the south a now exhausted enemy. The outpost line for the night was taken up by the leading battalions, with some of the cavalry in the centre. Some Australian cavalry, which had reached Hill 70, was ordered on to Dueidar to be ready to take up the r ght flank of the pursuit.

Vigorous action, to the utmost limits of endurance, was ordered for the next day, and the troops, in spite of the heat, responded nobly. At daybreak the Scottish Territorial Infantry, assisted by Australian and New Zealand mounted troops, took the remainder of Wellington Ridge by assault, capturing about 1,500 prisoners. Elsewhere the mounted troops pressed forward, meeting with some opposition, but prisoners continued to come in steadily, and it was soon obvious that the enemy's offensive was completely broken. An advance was ordered all along the line, and all mounted troops were put under the command of General Chauvel, with orders to push on as far and as vigorously as the resources at his disposal would permit.

The mounted troops pressed steadily forward, and found the enemy holding the ridges west of Qatia, supported by artillery. The Australian Light Horse, which had moved forward from Dueidar by Bir El Nuss, came into contact with the enemy near Bir El Hamisah and captured some 450 prisoners, with machine guns and other material. The further advance of these troops, however, was met with heavy fire from field guns and howitzers, and no further progress was made. Further northwards as soon as the infantry had cleared Abu Hamra, the advance was continued towards Qatia, where the enemy's rearguard was found firmly established east of the palm trees, with both flanks well protected. A strong attempt was made to eject him by dismounted action but the attack failed to make progress, and darkness found our troops and the enemy's facing each other roughly on parallel lines. During the day the Royal Flying Corps reported that the retreat of the Turks was general throughout their depth, and our aeroplanes most effectively harassed his movements and threw his columns into confusion by well-directed bomb attacks.

On the morning of the 6th the enemy was found to have retired from Qatia, and, while the cavalry pressed on in pursuit, the infantry moved forward and occupied the line Er Rabah-Qatia-Bir El Mamluk. These Australian Light Horse regiments, which had borne the brunt of observing and harassing the enemy's advance, were given a day's rest in camp, while the remainder of the cavalry continued the advance. The enemy's rearguard was found to be occupying his previously prepared position extending across the road and telegraph line between Hod El Reshafat and Hod El Dhaba. Our attempts to turn his flanks by Hod En Negiliat on the north and Hod El Sagia on the south were frustrated by heavy artillery fire.

On the same morning the Camel Corps detachment of Smith's Mobile Column occupied Bir El Mageibra without opposition. Another body of mounted troops also moved to Mageibra in support to Bir El Jafeir. In the afternoon Major J. J. de Knoop, commanding the Camel Corps detachment of this column, reconnoitred towards Hod El Bayud, and reported that a force of the enemy was in occupation of Hod El Muhammam, five miles north-east of Majeibra. Orders for an attack next morning were issued by Colonel Smith.

On the 7th August the cavalry maintained their action with the enemy's rearguard, which had fallen back to the line of his first entrenched position running from Oghratina to Hod El Masia, with flanks thrown well out to the north and south. There was continuous fighting throughout the day, but the enemy were too strongly supported by artillery for the cavalry to drive him from his position. Meanwhile the Mobile Column, operating from Bir El Aweidiya, had fought a very successful action with the enemy force—consisting of 1,000 rifles, three machine guns and two 12-pounder guns—in the neighbourhood of Hod El Muhammam. The camel detachment and cavalry the whole under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Grant, drove the enemy out of several successive positions, capturing 53 prisoners, and successfully withdrew at nightfall. This threat to his flanks was probably an important factor in determining the enemy to continue his retreat. I regret to say that Major de Knoop, who had handled the camel detachment throughout, with great skill and judgment, was killed while directing operations.

On the 8th August the enemy was found to have abandoned Oghratina and, by the evening, to have taken up a position covering Bir El Abd, his advanced base. It was here that the enemy made his final stand to cover the evacuation of his camps and stores. Touch was now gained between the cavalry and Smith's Mobile Column, and was maintained from this time onwards.

On the 9th August the cavalry which had hitherto carried out the pursuit was reinforced. A strong effort was made to encircle both flanks of the enemy at Bir El Abd and cut off his further retreat Strong opposition was, however, encountered on both flanks, and it was decided to deliver a dismounted attack with the object of driving out the enemy. Our field batteries got close enough to shell effectively the convoys removing stores from the pile at Bir El Abd, but our artillery fire drew a heavy reply from the enemy's howitzers, which caused some casualties. The enemy, well supported by artillery, fought stubbornly. He made three counter-attacks, all of which were driven back with heavy loss by our rifle and machine gun fire, and in the evening what appeared to be a general advance by fresh forces was made against our troops. This was also driven back with heavy loss, but the enemy was able to maintain his covering position. During the next two days our cavalry was unable to do more than maintain continuous pressure, but the Mobile Column, which had occupied Bayud on the 9th, continued to menace the enemy wide on his left flank. On the 10th a strong reconnaissance was made against the enemy, who was in strength at Hod El Mushalfat, south-east of Bir El Abd. On the 11th an enemy force with two mountain guns approached Bayud. A sharp action, which commenced at 5-30 A.M., was fought, and in the course of it all the baggage camels and ammunition mules of the enemy detachment were destroyed. Towards the afternoon the enemy evacuated this position and retired on the main body of his rearguard. On the following day patrols from the neighbourhood of Bayud found the country to the east and north all clear.

Early on the morning of the 12th it was found that the enemy had retired from Bir El Abd, and, though there was a small encounter with his rear troops about Salmana, the general pursuit stopped at this point, the enemy retiring through Bir El Mazar to El Arish. The General Officer Commanding was ordered to hold the line Bir El Abd-Homossia with two brigades of cavalry, keeping touch with the Mobile Column, which remained at Mageibra. The infantry returned to the Mahemdia-Romani line.

6. The complete result of the operations in the Qatia district was the decisive defeat of an enemy force amounting in all to some 18,000, including 15,000 rifles. Some 4,000 prisoners, including 50 officers, were captured, and, from the number of enemy dead actually buried, it is estimated that the total number of enemy casualties amounted about 9,000. In addition, there were captured 1 Krupp 75 mm. mountain battery of four guns complete with all accessories and 400 rounds of ammunition, 9 German machine guns and mountings with specially constructed pack saddles for camels transport, 2,300 rifles, 1,000,000 rounds small arms ammunition, 100 horses and mules, 500 camels and a large amount of miscellaneous stores and equipment. Two field hospitals, with most of their equipment, were also abandoned by the enemy in his retreat, and large quantities of stores were burnt by him at Bir El Abd to prevent their capture.

Lieutenant-General the Hon. H. A. Lawrence directed the operations throughout, and the warmest praise is due to him and the commanders, staffs and troops concerned in the operations. General Lawrence's staff deserve great credit for their efforts in working out the allotment of camel transport enabling our troops to conduct a vigorous pursuit. Throughout the whole month which elapsed between the enemy's first approach and his final disappearance Major-General H. G. Chauvel, C.B., C.M.G., proved himself a resolute and resourceful cavalry leader. The brunt of the fighting fell upon the Australian and New Zealand mounted troops, to which were attached batteries of R. H. A. I cannot speak too highly of the gallantry, steadfastness and untiring energy shown by these fine troops throughout the operations. The S. Mid. mounted brigade came into action successfully on 4th August, and subsequently took part in the cavalry pursuit. The Scottish troops, commanded by Major-General W. E. B. Smith, C.M.G., not only showed great steadiness under heavy artillery fire, but were responsible for the assault which recaptured Wellington Ridge on 4th August, and for clearing Abu Hamra on the 5th. Of the E. Lancs. troops, commanded by Major-General Sir W. Douglas, K.C.M.G., C.B., only two battalions were in action on the 4th, but the force carried out a march under very trying conditions on the subsequent days Detachments of the Bikanir Camel Corps were invaluable in reconnaissances and as escorts to small parties, besides bringing in much of the material captured.

Most excellent work was done by Lieutenant-Colonel C. L. Smith, V.C., Officer Commanding Camel Corps, and by all ranks composing the Mobile Column under his command. He executed the rôle ascribed to him with great energy, and carried out his instructions with the highest intelligence. The arrangements made for mobilising and maintaining his column reflect the greatest credit on Major-General A. G. Dallas, C.B., and his staff.

I cannot speak too highly of the work of the Royal Flying Corps during the whole period. Their work was extremely arduous and exhausting. The average total daily reconnaissances during the period amounted to 23¼ hours. and during the first five days of August to as much as 31½ hours. Many pilots and observers were out two or three times a day for several consecutive days under very accurate anti-aircraft fire, and were frequently engaged in air combats with enemy machines of superior power. Special commendation is due to Lieutenant-Colonel P. B. Joubert, Officer Commanding Royal Flying Corps, and to Major H. Blackburn, Royal Flying Corps, who commanded the detachment at Kantara.

I wish also to bring to notice the good work done by H. M. Monitors, under the command of Lieutenant-Commander A. O. St. John, R.N., and Commander E. Robinson, V.C., R.N., respectively. The shooting of these ships was consistently good, and they were very successful in reducing the fire of enemy's heavy howitzers on the 4th August.

7. With the exception of the operations described in the preceding paragraph, there is little to record beyond reconnaissances and patrols for the remainder of the period under review.

On 16th and 17th September a mounted force of Australian Light Horse, Imperial Camel Corps., R. H. A. batteries and a mountain battery, under the command of Major-General Chauvel, carried out a successful reconnaissance in force against the enemy's camp at Bir El Mazar. At dawn, on the 17th, the camp was attacked from the west and from the south and south-east. On the west our troops occupied a ridge about 800 yards from the enemy's second line trenches; several small posts were rushed and taken. Our batteries came into action in a favourable position, partially enfilading some enemy trenches, which were seen to be occupied in strength, and inflicted considerable loss. The enemy replied actively with shell fire and heavy rifle fire. On the south and south-east our troops drew the enemy's fire on a front of two miles, and in many instances occupied the enemy's original first line trenches. My instructions were that a general action against the enemy in entrenched positions was to be avoided, and the column, having successfully carried out its mission, withdrew without any attempt on the part of the enemy to molest it. The Royal Flying Corps co-operated effectively throughout the operation, and the gallant action of the seaplanes of the Royal Naval Air Service off El Arish diverted the attention of the enemy's aircraft from our troops at Bir El Mazar. Our casualties were slight, and our captures included one officer and thirteen men of the enemy's camel corps, besides a number of camels.

The success of this operation, apart from the casualties inflicted, which were heavy, lay in the fact that it gave the enemy a new and unexpected proof of our extended radius of action, and induced him, in the course of the next few days, to evacuate his camp at Bir El Mazar and withdraw the troops to camps near El Arish.

During the month of September various small reconnaissances were made. The most important of these was carried out against Bir El Tawal (about 30 miles west of El Kubri) by a column under Brigadier-General A. Mudge, between the 14th and 21st September. The approach march was excellently carried out over very broken and intricate country. The enemy's position was reached on the 17th, and, after a preliminary reconnaissance on that day, an attack was made early the next morning. The infantry advanced with great dash, and almost immediately the enemy took to flight, but pursuit was impossible, owing to the nature of the ground. An inspection of the enemy's camp showed that he had been completely taken by surprise, and had left behind all his stores and personal effects, which were captured. After the wells had been emptied, and such stores as could not be brought away had been destroyed, our troops withdrew, reaching Kubri railhead on 21st September. Our total casualties were three other ranks killed and two other ranks wounded.

On the western front during the months of August and September there has been little of note to report. The railway towards the Baharia Oasis has been pushed on, and the railhead of the Kharga railway is now ten miles beyond Kharga Station. Patrolling has been most active in all sections of the line. On 31st August a patrol of eight motor-cars captured an enemy camel convoy twenty miles north-west of Jaghbub. The escort of thirty armed men surrendered without resistance, the loads and saddles of the camels were burnt and most of the camels destroyed. In the Baharia section a patrol of two officers and their men, Imperial Camel Corps, came in contact with a small body of between fifteen and twenty enemy near the point where the "Rubi" road from Samalut descends the escarpment of the Baharia Oasis. The two officers became detached from the men, who made their way back to the post covering the railhead, but I much regret that subsequent search has failed to discover the missing officers. In the Wadi Natrun Section a motor-car patrol on 21st September arrested a small convoy under a Tripolitan officer of the Senussi force, which was bringing mails and a quantity of bombs, gelignite and automatic pistols from Baharia to Amria (12 miles west of Alexandria on the coast).

Throughout the period under review the command of the Delta District and the Lines of Communication Defences has been held by Major-General W. A. Watson, C.B., C.I.E., and the duties of that command, though happily involving no active operations, have been carried out to my satisfaction. Great activity and thoroughness has been shown in carrying out my instructions to establish a line of posts along the western edge of the canal zone to prevent the entrance of undesirable persons. The patrolling duties involved have been entrusted to two Australian squadrons, who have displayed the greatest zeal, tact and resource in bringing the new orders and restrictions into force. The results of this measure have been excellent and the Western Canal Zone can now be said to be free from the presence of all unauthorised persons.

8. It gives me the greatest pleasure to bring to notice the services rendered by General Sir F. R. Wingate, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.M.G., D.S.O., and the Egyptian Army, since the beginning of the war, to the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force and the Egyptian Expeditionary Force, and to express my gratefulness for the assistance which has at all times been so willingly given. Fifty-eight officers and twelve Sudan Government officials served—most of them for short periods equivalent to the amount of leave to which in normal circumstances they would have been entitled—with the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force; of these, six officers were either killed or died of wounds, and eleven were wounded. Sixty officers and twenty-seven Sudan Government officials were lent at various times for service with the Egyptian Expeditionary Force.

Personnel of the Egyptian Army has been employed at different times as guards for railway bridges and to garrison various important points in the interior. The Egyptian Army also supplied guns and gunners for two armoured trains for use with the defences of Egypt. A Camel Maxim Section and an armed detachment of the Military Works Department were attached to the Bikanir Camel Corps, and took part in the operations against the Senussi (in which operations No. 1 Squadron Egyptian Cavalry was also employed) and in the attack on the Suez Canal in April 1915. Two companies of the 2nd (Egyptian) battalion garrisoned Tor in January 1915, and took part in the subsequent operations in that district. The garrison of Abu Zeneima was also supplied for some months by troops of the Egyptian Army. In the course of 1915, 2,23) Egyptian reservists, who had been called up, were employed on works connected with the Canal defences; a number of Egyptian officers from pension and unemployed lists volunteered for service with these reservists and gave valuable assistance. A works battalion of six companies was formed in May 1915, for service at the Dardanelles, the battalion and the companies being commanded by British officers in the employ of the Egyptian Army. This unit did excellent work, under perpetual shell-fire, on the Peninsula during the four months of its employment.

Besides this assistance in the matter of personnel, the Egyptian Army has most liberally placed at the disposal of the Mediterranean and Egyptian Expeditionary Forces accommodation, war material and transport camels.

I would especially mention the loan of the Egyptian Army Hospital at Cairo, complete with equipment, to the New Zealand Division; the purchase in the Sudan of over 14,000 riding and baggage camels, the collection, veterinary examination, and dispatch of which threw a large amount of additional work upon the province staffs: the supply of 174,000 grenades for the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force; the loan of tugs and steel plates for the Canal defences; and the manufacture and repair, in the stores department, of a large number of articles of equipment and clothing. For these and all other services rendered in addition to their normal duties, the Egyptian Army and the Sudan Administration deserve the most cordial thanks.

I also wish to express my extreme gratefulness to Field Marshal Rt. Hon. Lord Methuen, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., C.M.G., Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Malta, and to all his staff for the labours which they have undertaken in connection with hospital work for the benefit of the Mediterranean and Egyptian Expeditionary Forces.

The expansion, reduction and re-expansion of accommodation has necessitated very hard work on the part of the Engineer, Barracks, Ordnance, Transport and Supply Services, as well as on the part of the Medical Department.

I wish to call attention to the admirable work that has been performed by the Nursing Services in the hospitals in Egypt. Not only have they had to deal with a very large number of wounded and sick from Gallipoli, Salonica and Egypt itself, but also from other theatres of war. The devotion to duty, zeal and skill of the Nursing Services, both British, Australian and New Zealand and of the voluntary helpers, has been beyond praise, and I have great pleasure in bringing to your notice in a subsequent despatch the names of a number of these ladies for specially distinguished service.

The distribution by the Army Postal Service of letters and parcels over the extended desert fronts has been fraught with difficulties. The successful manner in which these have been overcome has greatly contributed to the comfort and health of the troops under my command. In this connection I wish to acknowledge the assistance I have received from the Egyptian Postal Service under the able direction of N. T. Borton Pasha, Postmaster-General.

The complete failure of the enemy's operations in August was largely due to the manner in which the plans for defence were prepared and the distribution of the troops arranged. In the accomplishment of this the Chief of my General Staff, Major-General A. L. Lynden-Bell, C.B., C.M.G., rendered me able and devoted service. His work has been of an onerous nature and he has discharged it with energy, skill and determination.

My thanks are also due to Lieutenant-General E. A. Altham, K.C.B., C.M.G., for the manner in which he has discharged his responsible duties as Inspector-General of Communications.

I will submit in a separate despatch the names of those officers and men who have rendered distinguished service during the period under review and whose services I desire to commend.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

A. J. MURRAY, General,
Commander-in-Chief,
Egyptian Expeditionary Force.

Third Supplement, dated the 6th December 1916, to the London Gazette of the 5th December 1916, pages 11931, 11932, 11934, 11935, 11937, 11938, 11939, 11940 and 11941.

War Office,

6th December 1916.

The Secretary of State for War has received the following despatch from Lieutenant-General G. F. Milne, C.B., D.S.O., Commanding British Salonika Army :—

Headquarters,
British Salonika Army,
8th October 1916.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit the following report on the operations carried out by the British Salonika Army since I assumed command on 9th May, in accordance with instructions received from the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Egyptian Expeditionary Force.

2. On that date the greater part of the army was concentrated within the fortified lines of Salonika, extending from Stavros on the east to near the Galiko River on the west; a mixed force, consisting of a mounted brigade and a division, had been pushed forward to the north of Kukus in order to support the French Army which had advanced and was watching the right bank of the Struma River and the northern frontier of Greece. Further moves in this direction were contemplated, but, in order to keep the army concentrated, I entered into an agreement with General Sarrail by which the British forces should become responsible for that portion of the allied front which covered Salonika from the east and north-east. By this arrangement a definite and independent area was allotted to the army under my command. On the 8th June the troops commenced to occupy advanced positions along the right bank of the river Struma and its tributary the river Butkova from Lake Tahinos to Lozista village. By the end of July, on the demobilisation of the Greek Army, this occupation had extended to the sea at Cajagzi. Along the whole front the construction of a line of resistance was begun; work on trenches, entanglements, bridgeheads and supporting points was commenced; for administrative purposes the reconstruction of the Salonika-Seres road was undertaken and the cutting of wagon tracks through the mountainous country was pushed forward.

3. On the 20th July, in accordance with the policy laid down in my instructions, and in order to release French troops for employment elsewhere, I began to take over the line south and west of Lake Doiran, and commenced preparations for a joint offensive on this front. This move was completed by 2nd August, and on the 10th of that month an offensive was commenced against the Bulgarian defences south of the line Doiran-Hill 535. The French captured Hills 227 and La Tortue, while the British occupied in succession those features of the main 535 ridge now known as Kidney Hill and Horseshoe Hill, and, pushing forward, established a series of advanced posts on the line Doldzeli-Reselli. The capture of Horseshoe Hill was successfully carried out on the night 17th-18th August by the Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry at the point of the bayonet in the face of stubborn opposition. The enemy's counter-attacks were repulsed with heavy loss.

4. As a result of these operations it become possible to shorten considerably the allied line between Doiran Lake and the river Vardar, and on 29th August, in agreement with General Sarrail, I extended my front as far as the left bank of that river so as to set free more troops for his offensive operations. This relief was completed by 31st August, the position then held extending from Hill 420 to the Vardar River just north of Smol. In the Struma Valley a French mounted detachment was at the same time pushed forward to Seres.

5. On the 17th August the Bulgarians, who, at the end of May, had entered Greek territory by the Struma Valley and moved down as far as Demirhisar, continued their advance into Greek Macedonia. Columns of all arms advanced from seven different points, between Sarisaban, on the Mesta, and Demirhisar. The four eastern columns converged on the country about Drama and Kavala, while the remainder moved southwards on to the line of the Struma from Demirhisar towards Orfano. On the 19th August a mounted brigade with one battery carried out a strong reconnaissance, and found the enemy in some force on the line Prosenik-Barakli Dzuma; on the following day, after being reinforced by a battalion, this brigade again advanced in conjunction with the French detachment. These attacking troops, after encountering the enemy in force on the line Kalendra-Prosenik-Haznatar, withdrew after dark to the right bank of the Struma. The French detachment was subsequently placed under the orders of the General Officer Commanding British troops on this front, and received instructions to co-operate in the defence of the river line. On the 21st August the railway bridge near Angista Station was demolished by a detachment from the Neohori garrison, and three days later two road bridges over the Angista River were destroyed. Both these operations were well carried out by yeomanry, engineers and cyclists in the face of hostile opposition. The Bulgarians continued their advance into Eastern Macedonia unopposed by the Greek garrison, and it was estimated that by the end of August the enemy's forces, extending from Demirhisar southwards in the Seres sector of the Struma front, comprised the complete VII Bulgarian Division, with two or three regiments of the XI Macedonian Division which had moved eastwards from their positions on the Beles mountain to act as a reserve to the VII Division, and at the same time to occupy the defences from Vetrina-Puljovo northwards. Opposite the Lower Struma was a brigade of the II Division, with a brigade of the X Division, in occupation of the coast and the zone of country between Orfano and the Drama-Kavala road. This brigade of the X Division was supported by another brigade in the Drama-Kavala area. As a result of this advance and of a similar move in the west General Sarrail decided to entrust to the British Army the task of maintaining the greater portion of the right and centre of the allied line.

6. On the 10th September detachments crossed the river above Lake Tahinos at five places between Bajraktar Mah and Dragos, while a sixth detachment crossed lower down at Neohari. The villages of Oraoman and Kato Gudeli were occupied, and the Northumberland Fusiliers gallantly captured Nevoljen, taking 30 prisoners and driving the enemy out of the village. The latter lost heavily during their retirement and in their subsequent counter-attack. They also suffered severely from our artillery fire in attempting to follow our pre-arranged movements to regain the right bank of the river.

On the 15th similar operations were undertaken, six small columns crossing the river between Lake Tahinos and Orljak bridge. The villages of Kato Gudeli, Dzami Mah, Agomah and Komarjan were burnt and 27 prisoners were taken. The enemy's counter-attacks completely broke down under the accurate fire of our guns on the right bank of the river. On the 23rd a similar scheme was put into action, but a sudden rise of three feet in the Struma interfered with the bridging operations. Nevertheless the enemy's trenches at Jenimah were captured, 14 prisoners taken and three other villages raided. Considerable help was given on each occasion by the French detachment under Colonel Bescoins, and much information was obtained which proved to be of considerable value during subsequent operations.

7. On the Doiran-River Vardar front there remained as before the whole of the Bulgarian IX Division, less one regiment, a brigade of the II Division and at least two-thirds of the German 101st Division, which had entrenched the salient north of Macukovo on the usual German system. To assist the general offensive by the allies I ordered this salient to be attacked at the same time as the allied operations in the Florina area commenced. With this object in view the whole of the enemy's entrenched position was subjected to a heavy bombardment from the 11th to 13th September, the south-west corner of the salient known as the Piton des Mitrailleuses being specially selected for destruction. The enemy's position was occupied during the night 13th-14th, after a skilfully-planned and gallant assault, in which the King's Liverpool Regiment and Lancashire Fusiliers specially distinguished themselves. Over 200 Germans were killed in the work, chiefly by bombing, and 71 prisoners were brought in. During the 14th the enemy concentrated from three directions a very heavy artillery fire, and delivered several counter-attacks, which were for the most part broken up under the fire of our guns. Some of the enemy, however, succeeded into forcing an entrance in the work, and severe fighting followed. As hostile reinforcements were increasing in numbers, and as the rocky nature of the ground rendered rapid consolidation difficult, the troops were withdrawn in the evening to their original line, the object of the attack having been accomplished. This withdrawal was conducted with little loss, thanks to the very effective fire of the artillery. During the bombardment and subsequent counter attack the enemy's losses must have been considerable. On the same front on the night of the 20th-21st, after bombarding the hostile positions on the Crête des Tentes, a strong detachment raided and bombed the trenches and dug-outs, retiring quickly with little loss. A similar raid was carried out north-east of Doldzeli.

8. In addition to these operations and raids, constant combats took place between patrols, many prisoners being captured, and several bombing raids were carried out by the Royal Flying Corps.

9. In order further to assist the progress of our Allies towards Monastir by maintaining such a continuous offensive as would ensure no transference of Bulgarian troops from the Struma front to the west, I now issued instructions for operations on a more extensive scale than those already reported. In accordance with these the General Officer Commanding on that front commenced operations by seizing and holding certain villages on the left bank of the river with a view to enlarging the bridgehead opposite Orljak, whence he would be in a position to threaten a further movement either on Seres or on Demirhisar. The high ground on the right bank of the river enabled full use to be made of our superiority in artillery, which contributed greatly to the success of these operations. The river itself formed a potential danger, owing to the rapidity with which its waters rise after heavy rain in the mountains, but by night of the 29th September sufficient bridges had been constructed by the Royal Engineers for the passage of all arms. During the night 29th-30th September the attacking infantry crossed below Orljak bridge and formed up on the left bank. At dawn on the following morning the Gloucesters and the Cameron Highlanders advanced under cover of an artillery bombardment, and by 8 A.M. had seized the village of Karadzakoj Bala. Shortly after the occupation of the village the enemy opened a heavy and accurate artillery fire, but the remaining two battalions of the brigade, the Royal Scots and Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, though suffering severely from enfilade fire, pushed on against Karadzakoj Zir. By 5-30 P.M that village also was occupied, in spite of the stubborn resistance of the enemy. Attempts to bring forward hostile reinforcements were frustrated during the day by our artillery, but during the night the Bulgarians launched several strong counter-attacks, which were repulsed with heavy loss. During the following night determined counter-attacks of the enemy were again repulsed, and by the evening of the 2nd October the position had been fully consolidated. Preparations were at once made to extend the position by the capture of Jenikoj, an important village on the main Seres road. This operation was successfully carried out by an infantry brigade, composed of the Royal Munster and Royal Dublin Fusiliers, on the morning of the 3rd October, after bombardment by our artillery. By 7 A.M. the village was in our hands. During the day the enemy launched three heavy counter-attacks. The first two were stopped by artillery fire, which caused severe loss. At 4 P.M. the village, the ground in rear and the bridges were subjected to an unexpectedly heavy bombardment from several heavy batteries, which had hitherto not disclosed their positions. Following on the bombardment was the heaviest counter-attack of the day, six or seven battalions advancing from the direction of Homondos, Kalendra and Topalova with a view to enveloping our positions. This attack was carried forward with great determination, and some detachments succeeded in entering the northern portion of Jenikoj, where hard fighting continued all night, until fresh reinforcements succeeded in clearing out such enemy as survived. During the following day the consolidation of our new line was continued under artillery fire. On the 5th, after a bombardment, the village of Nevoljen was occupied, the Bulgarian garrison retiring on the approach of our infantry. By the following evening the front extended from Komarjan on the right vid Jenikoj to Elisan on the left. On the 7th a strong reconnaissance by mounted troops located the enemy on the Demirhisar-Seres railway, with advanced posts approximately on the line of the Belica stream and a strong garrison in Barakli Dzuma. On the 8th October our troops had reached the line Agoma-Homondos-Elisan-Ormanli, with the mounted troops on the line Kispeki-Kalendra. The enemy's casualties during these few days were heavy, over 1,500 corpses being counted in the immediate front of the captured localities. Three hundred and seventy-five prisoners and three machine guns were taken.

I consider that the success of these operations was due to the skill and decision with which they were conducted by Lieutenant-General C. J. Briggs, C. B., and to the excellent co-operation of all arms, which was greatly assisted by the exceptional facilities for observation of artillery fire. The Royal Flying Corps, in spite of the difficulties which they had to overcome and the great strain on their resources, rendered valuable assistance. Armoured motor-cars were used with effect.

10. The peculiar conditions that obtain in this country have called from the Royal Engineers work of an arduous and important kind, demanding the constant application of improvised methods. Road construction and road maintenance have been continuous, and have necessitated the employment of local labour in large numbers. In the base area, besides the work required on roads, the construction of piers, well boring and hutting have all had to be undertaken.

The work performed by the Topographical Section has been of a high order. Maps have been made from surveys covering, appoximately, 6,500 square kilometres, and the compilation of the numerous trench maps required has demanded incessant work. The closest co-operation has been maintained throughout between the French and Serbian Mapping Sections, French Aviation and Royal Flying Corps.

11. I take this opportunity to bring to notice the excellent work performed by the Military Police. In an unaccustomed situation, with troops of five allied nations, in addition to a mixed population, their work has been heavy and varied in character. At all times this has been performed with cheerfulness, zeal and discretion, and the methods employed in control of traffic and the movements of inhabitants have invariably proved effective.

12. In spite of the difficulties attending the transport of supplies, the troops have at all times had their needs promptly satisfied. The state of the roads, both in regard to surface and gradients, has placed a great strain on all motor vehicles, and it redounds to the credit of all officers concerned with the administration and executive control of mechanical transport units that the vehicles have been kept in a state to undertake the journeys that necessarily had to be performed.

13. The Ordnance Services have been uniformly satisfactory throughout and the provision made to satisfy the requirements of the troops, together with the forethought displayed in anticipating these requirements, reflects the greatest credit on the officers of the Army Ordnance Department and all ranks of the Army Ordnance Corps.

14. The reorganisation on a pack scale of this army has necessarily thrown a considerable additional amount of work on the Remount Department but the task of receiving and forwarding the large number of animals that arrived has been ably coped with and has proceeded without a hitch.

15. The situation of the troops and the difficulties of transport have rendered the task of the Postal Services no easy one, yet letters and parcels have been sent practically with unfailing regularity to, and accepted from all troops, even those in the most remote position.

16. Valuable work has been performed by all ranks of the Army Veterinary Services during the period covered by this despatch. Sickness amongst the horses and mules incidental to the hot weather has been, to a very large extent, minimised by the forethought displayed by the Deputy Director of Veterinary Services and the veterinary officers of formations.

17. On the enforcement of martial law the management of the three lines of railway radiating from Salonika had to be undertaken by the allies; one line, the Junction-Salonika-Constantinople line is now entirely administered by the British Army; this, together with the additional railway traffic involved by the arrival of the Serbian Army, as well as the Russian and Italian troops, has thrown a considerable strain on the railway directorate, which, however, has successfully risen to the occasion, and has worked harmoniously and smoothly with the French military and Greek civil officials.

18. The comparatively large increase made to the allied forces here has necessarily, too, thrown additional difficulties on the administration of the Lines of Communication and Base, which the staff and personnel have ably surmounted, and the work of receiving, forwarding and storing supplies, etc., has proceeded smoothly.

19. The spiritual ministrations to the troops have been thoroughly well conducted during a period in which sickness, owing to heat and malaria, was unfortunately somewhat rife, The chaplains of all denominations have not spared themselves in carrying out their duties under these adverse conditions.

20. I desire specially to acknowledge the excellent work rendered by Surgeon-General H. R. Whitehead, C. B., and all ranks of the medical services under his command during a period in which sickness was prevalent. All branches of the Royal Army Medical Corps and the Canadian Army Medical Corps deserve the greatest commendation and have fully maintained their high traditions of efficiency.

The medical services have been called upon to face problems of great difficulty. It can be easily realised that in a climate varying from severe cold to intense damp heat, and in a mountainous country deficient in water, poorly supplied with roads, without local resources, and where dysentery and malaria are rife, the duties and responsibilities of these services must necessarily be heavy. Experiments as to the most efficacious types of mountain ambulance transport have been conducted in the winter and spring, and as a result travois, mule litters and cacolets now form integral portions of each field ambulance. During the same period exhaustive measures were taken for an anti-malarial campaign. Officers with special knowledge were appointed to supervise anti-malarial work; swampy areas were drained and the defensive lines then held carefully surveyed with a view to only the most healthy portions being held. Although malaria has still been the prevailing disease, yet I feel certain that these careful precautionary measures have been greatly instrumental in lessening its intensity. The move to the valley of the Struma in June tested all the preparations made, and severely tried the medical resources. The area occupied was found to be highly malarious, the heat intense and damp, and the single road from the base long, hilly, and of uneven surface. The organisation of this line of evacuation and the arrangement of halting places and refilling points was, however, successfully undertaken. The work performed by the Motor Ambulance Convoys was invaluable. Running practically continuously, they succeeded in coping with the calls made upon them, difficulties were minimised by the forethought and energy displayed and the sick were transferred with satisfactory expedition to the base hospitals. The preparations for offensive operations on the Doiran front towards the end of July necessitated further developments in the rearward medical services. Efficient ambulance railway trains were improvised from local rolling stocks, and a railway line of evacuation organised. From the eastern extremity of the British line of defence evacuation by sea is the only feasible course. Three distinct systems are therefore in operation at one and the same time, by railway, by road and by sea, all converging on one base. When active operations commenced the rôles of the various forms of mountain ambulance transport organised for the field ambulances became apparent. On open hillsides, along the beds of ravines, over slopes covered with scrub, relay parties of stretcher-bearers, travois, litters and cacolets, conveyed the wounded back to the dressing stations. The use of improvised methods in action shows vividly the special conditions under which the medical services of the army have been called upon to work, and has necessitated the closest co-operation between staffs and medical units. The advice of the consultant physicians and surgeons, and of the medical experts who have visited this army, has considerably aided in the maintenance of a high standard of technical efficiency. The close touch in matters of sanitation between the medical services of field formations, the staff, and unit commanders, has been of the greatest benefit in maintaining the health and comfort of the troops. I cannot conclude my remarks on the medical services without paying testimony to the devoted service rendered by the nursing sisters belonging to the various hospitals. By their skill, care and attention, at a time of great stress under trying climatic conditions, the sufferings of the patients have been largely alleviated.

I further wish to thank the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John for its help and assistance. The Commissioner, Mr. H. L. Fitzpatrick, has been indefatigable in his endeavours for the welfare and comfort of the sick and wounded in both the base hospitals and field units.

21. The work of the Army Pay Department has been carried out to my entire satisfaction, while the visit in August of Colonel D. Neylan, War Office financial adviser and auditor, proved of the greatest help, and aided materially in clearing up all outstanding financial questions and in co-ordinating future policy.

22. On the declaration of martial law at Salonika on the 3rd June, certain administrative functions had necessarily to be taken over from the Greeks by the allies; amongst these was the control of the Customs, which is now administered by a Greek director working under the supervision of a commission composed of British and French officers directed by French Head-quarters. The administration of this important office has been conducted with discretion and common sense.

23. Shortly after the arrival of the British Army here, a careful investigation was made into the methods that would ensure the most satisfactory and prompt settlement of the numerous and intricate cases in which compensation would be claimed. Rules were drawn up, and the French Army invited to co-operate. As a result a most satisfactory system has been instituted; economy has attended the good methods adopted, and the results attained reflect the greatest credit on all concerned.

24. Finally, I should like to express my warm appreciation of the close co-operation afforded me by Vice-Admirals Sir John de Robeck, K.C.B., and Sir Cecil Thursby, K.C.M.G., and by the officers and men of the Royal Navy under their orders, in all matters connected with both active operations at the mouth of the Struma and in the well-being of the Army. The harmonious relationship that has existed between the two services has greatly assisted combined action. The naval transport officers on the lines of communication have worked untiringly, efficiently, and cordially with their army colleagues. The Royal-Naval Air Service has also afforded me valuable information.

25. I submit a list of the names of those officers, non-commissioned officers and men whose services I consider deserving of special mention.

I have the honour to be,

The Commissioners at a meeting shall, every month, inquire into all matters connected with the water-supply of the municipality, and examine and pass the accounts submitted under rule 4, and shall record that the accounts have been passed in the book of the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting.

6. In all engineering matters connected with the water-works the Commissioners shall be guided by the advice of the Sanitary Engineer. The Commissioners shall afford the Sanitary Engineer all information he may from time to time require, and shall consider and attend to all communications received from him.

7. The Sanitary Engineer shall visit, or shall depute a representative to visit, the water-works not less than once a year, and shall submit a report thereon to the Sanitary Board.

8. Until all points raised in the report of the Sanitary Engineer have been disposed of, the Commissioners shall submit to the Deputy Commissioner for transmission to the Sanitary Engineer a monthly progress report showing how far effect has been given to the recommendations made in the report.

9. (1) The Commissioners shall appoint two of their number in rotation to be monthly visitors of the water-works.

(3) The visitors shall report in writing to the Commissioners in meeting the result of their inspection, and a copy of their report, with a copy of any resolution that may be passed thereon by the Commissioners, shall be sent to the Sanitary Engineer.

10. An extract of the proceedings relating to the water-supply system at each meeting of the Commissioners shall be forwarded, within a week of the date of the meeting, to the Sanitary Engineer, who may, if he thinks fit, and shall, if the Commissioners so desire, submit it with his remarks to the Sanitary Board.

11. The chemical and bacteriological analyses of water from each of the water-works shall be carried out once a quarter in the laboratory of the Sanitary Commissioner and the results of the analyses shall be communicated to the Municipality and laid before the Commissioners at a meeting.

FOURTH REPORT ON THE COTTON CROPS OF BENGAL, 1916-17.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops—early and late. The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh. The late crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the Season.—The early crop suffered from excessive rains and from floods, the outturn in consequence being reduced. The condition of the late crop is reported to be fair on the whole.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is estimated at 70,806 acres as against 85,698 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The area sown with late cotton is estimated at 2,100 acres against the same figure last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of the early variety works out to 18,849 bales as against 28,567 bales reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The outturn of the late crop is estimated at 1,068 bales as against 1,173 bales of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

THIRD AND FINAL REPORT ON THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1916-1917.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—Since the publication of the second forecast in December, the weather has been generally favourable to the crop.

Acreage.—According to the estimates furnished by the District Officers, the total acreage for the Province amounts to 15,667,400 acres against 15,105,100 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The increase in area may be attributed to comparatively favourable weather during the transplanting season.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended, it will be seen that Bankura alone reports a bumper crop, viz., 133 per cent. Three districts (viz., Malda, Bogra and Jalpaiguri) report more than a normal crop, seven districts report a normal crop, and thirteen districts crops varying from 80 to 94 per cent. The remaining three districts, viz., Howrah, Hooghly and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, report crops as low as 75,66 and 45 per cent., respectively.

According to the above estimates the provincial outturn works out to 94 per cent. of the normal, as compared with 97 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Taking 12 maunds as the normal yield of clean grain per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 129,841,200 cwts., against 129,176,300 cwts. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Burdwan	874,800	520,000	580,000	67	83	Middle of November to beginning of December. Normal.	Since the submission of the second forecast, the weather was favourable. The decrease in outturn was partly due to flood and partly to cyclonic weather in the beginning of November.
Birbhum	604,600	573,000	595,000	83	100	Beginning of December. Normal.	The weather was favourable owing to better rainfall this year, but a considerable tract of land was permanently deteriorated by the deposit of sand in the flooded areas in September and October.
Bankura	510,600	171,000	510,600	42	133	3rd December. Normal.	The weather was favourable since the submission of the second forecast. The increase both in area and outturn was due to timely rainfall during the year.

The outturn was below the normal owing to some damage caused by the heavy rain at the end of September and in October and also by the storm of the 10th November last.
Hooghly	276,700	227,900	200,900	82	66	First week of December. Normal.	Since the submission of the second forecast the weather was fairly favourable. The decrease in outturn by about 34 per cent. below the normal was due to damage caused by flood in the Arambagh subdivision and also to want of timely rainfall at sowing time.
Howrah	126,200	111,700	112,000	108	75	Middle of November. Normal.	Excessive rainfall and flood in September and October caused some damage to the crop in the Amta and Singti thanas. The outturn was below the normal owing to floods and untimely rainfall when the paddy was in flower.

Dinajpur	1,120,300	1,034,900	1,058,100	105	100	Latter part of November. Owing to excessive rainfall some damage was done on low lands.
Jalpaiguri	551,300	516,400	503,000	102	103	Beginning of December Normal.	On a careful enquiry the Tahsildar of Mainaguri has increased the area by 1,000 acres. The outturn is a little above the normal owing to favourable weather and timely rainfall.

Malda	300,000	300,000	316,000	100	115	End of November. Normal.	The weather was favourable The better outturn this year was due to favourable weather at the time of transplantation and growth of the crop notwithstanding the slight damage caused by excessive rain in October.
Dacca	633,100	592 600	623,600	78	85	2nd week of November. Normal	The increase in area compared with last year was due to fluctuating jute market and transplantation of paddy in jute fields, the water having receded earlier this year. BENGAL—contd.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
11. Bhupendra Nath Chatarji, Officiating Inspector of Police.	He has been employed on most important duties in which he has shown himself to be a brave, reliable and most efficient investigating officer.
12. Kinsey Beaumont Welford Thomas, Deputy Inspector-General of Police.	This officer joined the Bengal Police as an Assistant Superintendent of Police in the year 1887. In July 1899, he was appointed Personal Assistant to the Inspector-General Mr. (now Sir Robert) Carlyle, who remarked that he was an officer of "extraordinary power of work." In 1910, he was promoted to the rank of Deputy Inspector-General, and, in April 1912, was posted to the Dacca range comprising the 7 districts of the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions. While in charge of the heaviest range in the Presidency, Mr. Thomas has devoted himself to his work uncomplainingly, and the efficient management of the range is due entirely to his supervision, control and hard work. He is a most zealous and indefatigable worker. He has rendered service of over 29 years which has been distinguished throughout by exceptional ability and merit.
13. Reginald Clarke, Commissioner of Police.	This officer joined the Bengal Police in January 1900 and has served in the Calcutta Police since April 1912. Prior to that he held charge of Midnapore and the 24-Parganas, two of the heaviest district charges in Bengal, and has throughout shown marked ability in administrative work. He was also Personal Assistant to the Inspector-General of Police for two years. As Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, since 1st April 1915, he has shown exceptional tact and sagacity.
14. Bernard Anson Westbrook, Chief Officer, Calcutta Fire Brigade.	This officer was specially appointed to reorganise the Calcutta Fire Brigade and has succeeded in bringing it to a very high state of efficiency. His services have been of great value both to the Corporation of Calcutta and the Commissioner of Police in connection with various schemes for the prevention of fires in public buildings and places of amusement; and during the past year he has formulated and put into practice schemes to secure the better prevention of taxi-cab dacoities and the provision of immediate police assistance to the public. Mr. Westbrook has also established a Motor Ambulance Service in Calcutta which has proved of the greatest value.
15. Muhammad Khurshed, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer joined the Bengal Police as a constable in the year 1884 and has risen by sheer merit to the rank of Deputy Superintendent, 2nd grade. He has completed over 32 years' service. In the district police he was commended on several occasions by the officers under whom he served for his hard work and devotion to duty. In 1910 he acted as Superintendent of Police of Jessore and gave satisfaction. In 1912 he did valuable work in the Diamond Harbour subdivision where an outbreak of dacoity had occurred. He has shown marked detective ability and merit throughout his career and he is a strong disciplinarian. At present he is in charge of the police work in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of the Tippera district. He has managed this difficult subdivision very well and has kept crime in check His Superintendent of Police reports that he has shown great zeal, ability and activity in his present charge, and that it is largely due to his efforts that there has not been a serious increase of crime in the subdivision at a time of scarcity. He possesses a unique knowledge of the criminal history of the Presidency and is a most valuable officer.

16. Jadu Ram, Police Constable.	In September 1915 an absconding murderer was hiding in a jute field where he had concealed himself for some time. A body of police surrounded it, but the absconder managed to escape by jumping into the river Hooghly, which at this spot is deep and dangerous. The constable, who was then officiating as a head constable, followed him into the water, swam after him and caught him and managed to hold him till a boat was launched from the bank. Both men had a narrow escape from drowning, and they were taken out of the water in a state of extreme exhaustion. The officiating head constable's action was both plucky and gallant.
17. Rajendra Kishor Sen, Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the Police in the year 1905. He displayed conspicuous gallantry and presence of mind in arresting a desperate and dangerous proclaimed offender in the following circumstances:—In January 1916 he was deputed with 4 constables and a posse of chaukidars to arrest the offender. He encountered him on a village path and called upon him to surrender. Thereupon the accused produced a ramdao from underneath his clothes and rushed at the Sub-Inspector, who, finding himself placed in a precarious position, ordered one of his constables to fire, which he did, wounding the accused in the leg. This however did not put an end to the accused's resistance, and he again rushed at the Sub-Inspector with his ramdao uplifted, but the constable warded off the blow with the barrel of his gun, and before the accused could strike again the Sub-Inspector very pluckily seized him from behind round the waist. The accused tried to sweep round the Sub-Inspector with his ramdao, but one of the constables snatched the weapon out of his hand and he eventually surrendered, though still in the possession of two clasp knives. The Sub-Inspector did not lose his head in the struggle, and by his presence of mind and an intelligent use of his men was able to avoid any fatal results and arrested the accused.

BENGAL—concld.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
18. Hafizuddin Shaikh, Police Constable.	This constable is deserving of very high praise for the gallantry displayed by him on the occasion of the arrest of a desperate and dangerous proclaimed offender in January 1916. The facts of the incident are detailed in the remarks against nominee No. 17, Sub-Inspector Rajendra Kishor Sen. When the Sub-Inspector ordered the constable to fire at the accused he promptly did so and when the accused rushed at the Sub-Inspector and was about to strike him with a ramdao the constable warded off the blow with the barrel of his gun. Subsequently he, with others, helped to secure the accused. The constable stood by the Sub-Inspector throughout, and it was largely due to his gallant conduct and pluck that a dangerous absconder was arrested.

The percentage of value derived from such enemy production or manufacture should be stated in the certificate. The percentage should be calculated, not upon the sale price of the finished goods in India, but upon the value delivered at the place of manufacture, excluding cost of packing and carriage to India.

(h) The certificate should state that the goods have been produced or manufactured in Belgium, or that less than 25 per cent. of their value is due to enemy (other than Belgian) labour or material and that the certifying officer is satisfied as to the truth of the declaration.

Goods manufactured in Holland which owe less than 25 per cent. of their value to enemy (other than Belgian) labour or material but include also a Belgian element which raises the proportion to more than 25 per cent. are considered for the purpose of this certificate as goods of Belgian origin.

RESOLUTION ON THE RELIEF OPERATIONS CARRIED OUT IN TIPPERA DISTRICT DURING THE YEARS 1915 AND 1916.

RESOLUTION No. 1702Agri.

READ—

Letter No. 6511, dated the 21st November 1916, from the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, submitting, with his remarks, the final report on the relief operations in the district of Tippera during the years 1915 and 1916.

Preliminary.—The report deals with the distress which, owing to a variety of causes, prevailed during a period of 15 months from May 1915 to July 1916 in parts of the district of Tippera. The total area of the district is 2,624 square miles and the population is 2,430,138 : out of this area 1,058 square miles with a population of 759,545 were affected at one time or another by the distress. It was not found necessary at any stage of the operations to declare scarcity or famine under section 74 of the Bengal Famine Code, but in accordance with section 67 reports under sections 105 and 107 of the Bengal Famine Code were submitted to the Government of India from January 1916 to July 1916, and the report under review has been submitted in accordance with section 109 of the Code.

Causes of distress.—The district is very fertile, the normal rainfall at Comilla, the head-quarters station, being 85 inches : the population is almost exclusively employed in agriculture, and is generally prosperous. The principal crop is winter rice occupying 52·4 per cent. of the cultivated area, while autumn rice and jute each account for 19·2 per cent. Owing to the general prosperity of the district no programme of famine relief works is maintained. The first misfortune was the sudden fall in the price of jute on the outbreak of the war, owing to which the raiyats were obliged to sell their crop at an average price of Rs. 4 or Rs. 5 a maund below the price obtained in the previous year. The second was short rainfall at the time when the winter rice crop of 1914 was ripening. These causes led to distress in parts of the Chandpur and Sadar subdivisions at the beginning of 1915 and relief was necessary from May to August, when normal conditions were restored in the affected portion of Chandpur. In the meantime abnormal rainfall at the end of May and the beginning of June 1915, both in the district and in the catchment area of the rivers which flow through it had already done serious damage in the Sadar and Brahmanbaria subdivisions before the jute and rice crops had grown high enough to resist flooding, and on the 9th June the bursting of the Goomti embankment caused widespread floods. In July, August and October 1915, further disastrous floods occurred with the result that the three principal crops of the year, viz., winter rice, autumn rice and jute were destroyed to the extent of 90, 75 and 75 per cent., respectively, in the affected area. Scanty rainfall in the early part of 1916 restricted the outturn of the summer and autumn rice crops and distress continued until the end of July when a good crop of jute was harvested. The relief measures in the areas of the Sadar and Brahmanbaria subdivisions which were affected by floods extended over a period of 13 months from July 1915 to July 1916.

Nature of relief measures.—There was no scarcity of rice except in October 1915, and the distress was due to the lack of money and credit rather than to the depletion of food-stocks. Money-lenders had realised very little in 1914 on account of the low price obtained for jute, and they had little money to advance : at the same time the abnormal conditions made them unwilling to advance what they had. Consequently the principal measures adopted by Government were directed towards the restoration of credit and the provision of resources for agricultural operations, and loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act were advanced to the extent of Rs. 9,69,148. Loans would not, however, have been sufficient to prevent loss of life among the poorest of the population, and expenditure of Rs. 1,57,516 was incurred on relief works and of Rs. 1,59,407 on gratuitous relief. The high ratio of expenditure on gratuitous relief, as compared with that on works, was due to the peculiar conditions and was unavoidable. In the first place it is very difficult to find any suitable task in a flooded area the normal condition of which is to be under water for the greater part of the year, and secondly, the women of a district which is normally prosperous will not take to earth work on the occurrence of a single disastrous year and they would have starved if they had not been supported by gratuitous relief. Loans were given on joint bonds on personal security and were distributed locally by responsible officers. Gratuitous relief was given principally in doles of rice : it was distributed by reliable local agents under the supervision of Government officers. The relief works were carried out by the District Board aided by special grants from Government. The works consisted of repairs and construction of roads, excavation of new tanks and water-channels, and re-excavation of old tanks and water-channels, and repairs to embankments. With the exception of two tanks all the works are useful.

General remarks.—During the period of distress the death-rate was not abnormal. A few deaths from starvation were reported, but in no case did enquiry show that starvation was the actual cause of death, and cases of emaciation were rare. The average monthly percentage of persons relieved to the total population of the affected area from September 1915 to July 1916 was 1·9. The sudden and rapidly succeeding floods made it impossible to carry out the preliminary arrangements prescribed in the Famine Code, and the local officers had to devise measures to meet unexpected needs. In the first period of relief works labourers were paid 4 annas a day, irrespective of the work done; subsequently payment was made on measurement to small gangs at Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 7 per 1,000 cubic feet according to lead and lift. The District Board rates in normal times are 6 to 8 annas a day, and Rs. 3 to Rs. 9 per 1,000 cubic feet. The price of rice was highest in the months of August, September and October 1915, when the price of local rice at Comilla was 5½, 5½ and 5¼ seers per rupee compared with 7$\frac{3}{16}$, 7½ and 7½ seers per rupee in the corresponding months of 1914. There was an increase in the number of petty thefts and burglaries, but apart from two cases of grain looting in 1915 there was no increase of violent crime. The decrease in the number of cases instituted on complaint affords striking evidence of the extent to which litigation is a luxury. The harvesting in December 1916 of a winter rice crop estimated at 90 per cent. of an average crop restored normal conditions in all parts of the district, except in an area of 100 square miles in the Sadar subdivision, which suffered from a further flood in October 1916. This area, however, was fortunately little affected by the floods of 1915.

Conclusion.—His Excellency the Governor visited the affected area in July 1915, and the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell visited it in July and August 1915 and in August 1916: during his visits in 1915 he made arrangements with the local officers for the organization of relief work. The Governor in Council is satisfied that the measures which were taken were suitable for the occasion and that they were successful and were conducted with economy. The success of the operations was due in a very large degree to the Collector, Mr. Emerson, and the Governor in Council fully endorses the Commissioner's appreciation of his foresight, coolness and assiduity. Of the Subdivisional Officers Mr. Pringle at Brahmanbaria had the heaviest charge: he worked with untiring energy and showed a remarkable talent for organization. Mr. Rau, Subdivisional Officer of Chandpur, and Babu Prakash Chandra Singh, Sadar Subdivisional Officer, also deserve credit for their management of the operations in their charges. The services of the Sub-Deputy Collectors whose names are mentioned in the Collector's report will be brought to the notice of the Appointment Department. The Governor in Council notices with much pleasure the reference in the report to the useful work done by non-official gentlemen, among whom the Presidents of Panchayats rendered invaluable service.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1916.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

LAND REVENUE.

CALCUTTA, THE 19TH FEBRUARY 1917.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending 30th September 1916.

THE Survey and Settlement Department was considerably affected during the year by the economies enforced in consequence of the war. No new ground was broken and the programme was curtailed in districts in which settlement was in progress. A large number of the trained subordinate agency had to be disbanded. Every endeavour was made to find employment for discharged settlement kanungos in other Departments of Government.

2. The main programme of the Survey Department was the traverse survey of 1,382 square miles. It included 747 square miles in Tippera of low-lying country cut up by deep channels, and 568 square miles of diara area comprising chars in the Ganges adjoining Rajshahi district and riparian lands in Malda district.

The effect of curtailment of the normal programme of the Survey Department is already evident in the cost-rates, which are appreciably higher than those on which the programmes were originally framed, the standing charges of the controlling staff being spread over smaller areas.

The Department had in hand a substantial programme of miscellaneous surveys and mapping, including Howrah Town survey, topographical revision of the Calcutta Added Area, and traverse of a zamindari estate (Mathurapur) in Malda.

The Drawing Office was removed from Shillong to Calcutta and satisfactory arrangements were made for adequate and economical reproduction of cadastral and other maps.

3. The Government Survey School near Comilla continued to make steady progress and justified its existence. Accordingly it has been decided to acquire its site on the Lalmai Hills a few miles out of Comilla town and to put the School on a permanent basis. Arrangements were also made for a special course of training for Collectorate kanungos.

4. A comparatively small area for cadastral survey was taken up, but the areas in which attestation was completed and the record finally framed exceeded any reported in recent years. Cadastral survey and preparation of record-of-rights were in progress in sixteen districts. Major or Imperial district operations proceeded in Faridpur, Jalpaiguri, Dacca, Mymensingh, Midnapore, Rajshahi, Noakhali and Tippera, while minor operations taken up in advance of district operations for urgent reasons at the expense of the local Government or private parties were conducted in diverse parts of the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Bakarganj, Faridpur, Malda, and Noakhali. In these operations, both major and minor, the area cadastrally surveyed during the year aggregated 1,850 square miles. Preliminary records were written for 2,036 square miles and the records of 3,906 square miles were attested and those of 3,529 square miles were finally published. As in previous years large re-settlements of land revenue were made in the course of these operations, mostly in Murshidabad, Dacca, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Faridpur, and Noakhali. The diara resumption proceedings carried out in Dacca, Mymensingh, and Midnapore were also extensive. With the increase of these proceedings difficulties have constantly arisen from want of the old maps from the time of the Permanent Settlement. These maps, hitherto regarded primarily as of historical interest, have thus acquired a considerable practical value. They are not now available in India and accordingly opportunity was taken of Major Hirst's furlough to depute him for a portion of it for their study at the India Office and British Museum. Major Hirst's report is awaited.

5. The operations in Faridpur and Jalpaiguri were brought to a close in March, the total number of districts in which settlement operations have been completed thus rising to four. The operations in Dacca are in their closing stages, and the progress in nearly all branches of work connected with the major settlements in hand is exceedingly satisfactory.

In Mymensingh attestation of the record was completed. Questions affecting the status of jotdars in the Jamuna (old Brahmaputra) chars and of rent-free owners owing allegiance to no man were decided. Illegal enhancements, forcible dispossession, and the exaction of high abwabs were found to be the characteristics of the landlords of the tract known as the Madhupur jungle.

An area of 293 square miles was cadastrally surveyed in Midnapore, and the detail survey of the district has now been completed. The year's work was difficult and expensive involving reconciliation with maps of previous surveys. The number of rent-free claims was large and they demanded much scrutiny, while the framing of the record of service lands gave trouble. Owing to the water-logged condition of the area harvests are precarious, and fixed cash-rents are rendered impossible; the ingenuity of the people has devised various curious systems of rent mainly based on produce to meet the local conditions.

Cadastral survey of Rajshahi district was finished with the completion of 685 square miles of a long river strip comprising the frontage of the Ganges along the districts of Murshidabad, Rajshahi, Nadia, and Pabna. The principal problem at attestation was illegal enhancement of rents, but most of the cases were compromised. In char lands the utbandi system affords problems which remain to be solved.

In Tippera and Noakhali the second settlement block of 833 square miles was cadastrally surveyed. In the latter district a considerable amount of sub-infeudation was found to prevail in the area under attestation.

6. The printing of the record-of-rights was successfully managed in Dacca, Mymensingh, and Midnapore. It started late in Rajshahi and necessarily retarded recovery operations in that district, as copies are distributed at the time of recovery.

7. After the improvement of the jute market recovery operations resumed normal conditions and the collections, except in Rajshahi, exceeded expectation. Sparing use was made of the certificate procedure and where it was found necessary special care was taken in applying coercive measures. The favourable character of the jute market stimulated the sale of maps and khatians, the price fetched in Dacca and Mymensingh amounting to Rs. 70,000.

8. Case-work was omitted from the curtailed programme. Some work was, however, done in Dacca and Mymensingh. The cases dealt with were mostly uncontested and were decided on terms agreed on between the parties, resulting in an increase of about 20 per cent. on existing rents. Some cases for commutation of produce-rents were tried in Midnapore and Rajshahi.

9. Cess-revaluation by the Settlement Department was completed in Dacca and started in Noakhali where it proceeded simultaneously with attestation and janch (scrutiny) of settlement records. Good progress was made in Rajshahi where much preliminary work was done and the revaluation of 637 estates completed, resulting in an increase of cess from Rs. 11,907 to Rs. 17,719.

10. The Director's careful analysis of the financial aspect of the operations is reassuring and shows that each major settlement worked within its sanctioned allotment without sacrifice of efficiency. It is further shown that there is good reason to expect that save in the case of the Midnapore Settlement it will be possible to complete operations without exceeding the total amounts sanctioned. The result of the enquiry, which Government ordered last year to be made in the case of Midnapore, is not yet before Government. The Director, however, has given warning of a substantial increase in the estimates.

11. The most important minor operation is the revisional settlement of Fatehsingh Estate belonging to the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad preliminary to the introduction of a scheme of continuous maintenance of the record and the application of the certificate procedure for recovery of arrears of rent. The original record of the estate was prepared eight years ago. The initial revision of that record is now in progress. It is hoped that a satisfactory scheme will be sanctioned before long and that the first experiment will be made in the working of section 158A of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The essential feature of this experiment is that it is undertaken on the application of the landlord who will bear the cost of the initial revision as well as the subsequent maintenance.

12. A rapidly growing tendency to utilise the records-of-rights in disputes relating to land in the Civil, Criminal and Revenue Courts in the Presidency, is described in the Director's report.

13. In December 1915 Major F. C. Hirst, I.A., Director of Surveys, went on furlough. Owing to the paucity of officers in the Survey of India, Mr. J. C. Nixon, I.C.S., who was then Assistant Director, was appointed to officiate for him. The period was one of extensive re-organisation required by the constitution of a separate Survey Department for this Presidency and the ability displayed by Mr. Nixon in carrying the department through this stage of transition amply justified his selection. Mr. M. C. McAlpin, I.C.S., completed his third year as Director of Land Records during the period under review : his technical knowledge and administrative capacity have enabled him to control with marked efficiency the complex operations committed to his charge. His Excellency in Council has read with much pleasure the commendation bestowed by the Director on Messrs. Sachse, Nelson, Jameson, Ascoli, Prance, and Thompson and on the other members of the Indian Civil Service who held subordinate charge under them. Their good work and that of the officers of the Provincial Civil Service and Subordinate Executive Service will be noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of it, together with copies of the two Reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.
